Stevens Says Rumor He Will Quit Is False

"Never Felt Better," Army Secretary Notes In Denying Reports

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7 (AP)—Secretary of the Army Stevens today denied persistent reports that he is leaving office soon. "I have never felt better in my life and I am not resigning," he said.

That terse statement was issued through the Army's information chief, Maj. Gen. Gilman Mudgett, who added that the secretary told him this morning "he had not discussed resigning with anyone."

Reported In Poor Health

Stevens' mention of his health apparently referred to a New York Times story today which said the secretary is "reported to be in poor health as a result of the mental anguish he has been suffering" following his bitter dispute with Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) last year.

Washington has been filled with reports this week that Stevens might step out around Feb. 4, taking Army counselor John G. Adams with him. The counselor also was in the thick of the fight with McCarthy.

Adams told a reporter today: "I have not resigned, do not expect to resign, and have not been asked to resign."

Inquiries at the White House brought a statement from Murray Snyder, assistant press secretary, that he had no information that Stevens was about to resign.

Potter Renews Efforts

The Times reported in a Washington dispatch that Stevens would leave "just as soon as President Eisenhower has found a successor," and that Adams is expected to go at the same time.

Sen. Potter (R-Mich) disclosed yesterday that he has renewed his efforts to get both Stevens and Adams out of the Pentagon. Potter was a member of the Senate subcommittee which conducted all hearing on the McCarthy-Army row.

At its conclusion Potter issued a statement saying he thought the main accusations made by each side had been proved and that some "separations" from government service should follow.

Nobody Is Hurt As Train Derails

ASHLAND, Ky., Jan. 7 (AP)—Seventy passengers escaped injury in the underground derailment of a Chesapeake and Ohio Rwy. Train and walked to safety from inside Princess Tunnel today.

Ten cars jumped the track inside the 300-year long tunnel, 10 miles south of here, but automatic brakes brought the train to a smooth stop.

Guard rails locked the wheels of the cars and they remained upright, preventing possible heavy damage and injuries.

Only the diesel and part of one car had emerged from the south end of the tunnel when the accident occurred.

The Diesel, alone, was not derailed.

A broken rail was blamed for the accident, which tore up 300 feet of ties and rails and blocked all traffic on the line between Ashland and Lexington.

Crews working in relays in the narrow tunnel hoped to complete repairs late tonight.

The train was the Louisville section of the George Washington, detached here from the main section, bound for Cincinnati, only a short while before.

Employment Decline Last Month Said To Be Seasonal

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7 (AP)—The number of Americans with jobs dropped by more than a million in December but government officials said the decline was largely seasonal.

The regular monthly joint report by the Commerce and Labor departments put December employment at 60,688,000, down 1,043,000 from November's 61,731,000. December employment was almost exactly the same as December a year earlier.

Unemployment at the same time declined slightly, dropping 55,000 to 2,838,000 in December from the 2,893,000 jobless reported in November. December unemployment was 525,000 above the 2,313,000 for December a year earlier.

Tells Of Mother's Death

Dr. Stephen Sheppard, holding box, asks jailer Mike Uccello, left, for permission to tell his brother, convicted wife slayer Samuel Sheppard, of the death of their mother, Mrs. Edythe Sheppard. Police say the despondent woman shot herself in the head. The father is critically ill in the Bay View hospital run by the Cleveland family.

Adams, Weible Made Decision To Promote Peress

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7 (AP)—The Army today informed Congress that the final decision to give an honorable discharge to Dr. Irving Peress was made by Lt. Gen. Walter L. Weible, a deputy chief of staff, and Army Counselor John G. Adams.

Disclosure of this information by the Army came sharp on the heels of a proposed new investigation by the Senate of the Peress case.

Peress, a New York dentist, is a former Army major who was promoted and honorably discharged after refusing to answer questions from Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) about alleged Communist connections.

McCarthy has contended Peress should have been court-martialed. The disclosure of who recommended the honorable discharge for Peress was contained in a "chronology" of the case.

The 38-page document listed the names of 61 officers and one civilian. Asst. Defense Secretary Fred Seaton said "this was everyone who had anything to do with the handling" of the Peress case.

The Pentagon made the bulky Peress file available after Army Secretary Stevens sent it to Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass), who requested the record. In a letter with the file Stevens noted that there had been press reports of "renewed" interest by congressmen in getting further details of the case.

Townsend Netcher Dies In California

PALM SPRINGS, Calif., Jan. 7 (AP)—Townsend Netcher, retired millionaire Chicago merchant and former husband of silent screen star Constance Talmadge, died here today.

Netcher, 61, was the uncle of Mrs. Mollie Netcher Bragno, the Chicago heiress who yesterday attended the opening of safety deposit boxes in which her grandmother, Mrs. Mollie Netcher Newbury, had kept more than 10 million dollars.

Secretary of Labor Mitchell and Secretary of Commerce Weeks said in a joint statement that "seasonal changes dominated the job picture."

They said that although employment dropped over a million, the people losing jobs were generally in farming, construction, and other outdoor activities. The total included many housewives and others who normally do not work during the off season, and are not considered to be unemployed.

Foiled 5 Times, Dutch Couple Is Finally Married

BRISTOL, England, Jan. 7 (AP)—Jannie Van Rotterdam, an attractive 22-year-old Dutch blonde, and her seafaring sweetheart, Dirk Vlaanderen, were married today, finally beating a jinx that has wrecked their wedding plans in five European ports.

For a year now, Jannie has chased Dirk around Europe, waiting for a chance to get married between his voyages as master of the Dutch coaster Jakob Oorburg.

Today, as they posed for cameras outside the little Church of St. John's, at nearby Clifton, Jannie clung tightly to her husband's arm and smiled shyly at well-wishers.

"It's hard to believe we really are married at last," she told reporters. "I've packed and unpacked my wedding dress so often I thought I'd never get a chance to wear it."

After the ceremony, Jannie told reporters about their five previous attempts to get married—beaten each time because Dirk had to sail before she had established the necessary residential qualifications.

Couple Saved From Volcano

TOKYO, Saturday, Jan. 8 (AP)—Two unhappy Japanese lovers who leaped into a volcano's seething "suicide crater" were snatched from death yesterday after 33 hours of suffering and terror.

The drama unfolded in the crater of 2,477-foot Mt. Mihara on Oshima, an island 50 miles south of Tokyo at the entrance of Sagami Bay, which leads to Tokyo Bay.

Seven daring police volunteers made a terrifying descent of more than 500 feet to the crater floor. It had been reached only twice before by expeditions using special equipment, protective clothing and gas masks.

There was no time for special equipment as the cries of the couple rose out of the pit.

Roped together, with only towels for masks, the police were lowered down the crumbling walls, blinded and almost choked by sulphur fumes, which obscured the wailing lovers.

Led by Detective Tomosaburo Suzuki, they found Satoru Takayanagi, 22, and Setsumi Endo, a 21-year-old Tokyo waitress, at the edge of the crater floor. Takayanagi was exhausted but relatively uninjured. Miss Endo had a smashed ankle was covered with blood and bruises and was suffering from shock.

LAMORNA, England, Jan. 7 (AP)—S. J. Lamorna Birch, artist known for his seascapes and paintings of the Cornish countryside, died at his home here today. He was 85.

U. S. Has Lost Contact With Fields Family

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7 (AP)—The State Department said today it has lost touch with Noel and Herta Field in Budapest and got only a Red Hungarian "runaround" in trying to reach them again.

The 50-year-old Field and his Swiss-born wife were freed last Nov. 17 by Hungary after five years' imprisonment on spy charges.

The Budapest press and radio last Christmas Eve reported they had been granted asylum at their request. Official U.S. efforts to check on these reports have been unavailing.

"A mild expression would be 'a runaround,'" Henry Suydam, State Department press officer, told a news conference today.

As he described it, the runaround went like this:

U.S. Minister Christian M. Ravnald talked with Noel and Herta Field last Nov. 18 at the Budapest address supplied him by the Hungarian Foreign Office. The Fields had been freed the day before.

Ravnald reported the couple happy to be free but anxious to rest and relax after their ordeal. He said they planned to go to a hospital.

When Red radio and press reports Dec. 24 said the Fields would stay in Hungary, Ravnald sent aides back to the address. But the Fields had checked out around Dec. 15. He inquired at the Hungarian Foreign Office for an official statement on the press-radio reports. He was told the Fields could be found at the address already given him.

Ravnald went back was told again they had checked out. Suydam told newsmen the U.S. legation now is ignorant of the Fields' whereabouts.

Ky. Post Office Has 40,000 "Nixie" Cards

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 7 (AP)—That Christmas card you expected but didn't receive just might have been a "Nixie."

That's what the post office calls mail with incomplete, incorrect or unknown addresses—and with no return address.

The Louisville Post Office revealed today that it inherited 40,000 nixies out of the 1954 Christmas mail.

One contained $25 in bills, another contained a $20 bill, several had single $10 and $5 bills and many contained $1 bills and checks.

Rescued Fishermen Reach Bermuda

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Jan. 7 (AP)—Ten grateful crew members plucked from their tiny fishing schooner sinking in heavy Atlantic seas reached port here today aboard the rescue ship, the luxury liner Queen of Bermuda.

Congress Differs On Ike's Message

Demos Uneasy Over Manpower Cuts

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7 (AP)—Congress took a second look today at President Eisenhower's State of the Union proposals, and differences of opinion began to arise over some of them.

Several of the Democrats who now control both houses voiced uneasiness over the President's plan to trim the armed forces' manpower and put more emphasis on air power and on "new weapons, especially those of rapid and destructive fighting power."

Sen. Russell (D-Ga.), who will head the Senate Armed Services Committee, said he may re-establish a special preparedness subcommittee with broad powers to look into defense policies and operations.

France Submits Plans For Arms Pool In Europe

PARIS, Jan. 7 (AP)—France has submitted detailed plans for an arms pool project which it hopes will repair the damage inflicted on Allied unity by French rejection of the European Defense Community.

Reliable informants said today a memorandum containing these details was in the hands of the six nations to be linked with France in the new Western European Union—Britain, West Germany, Belgium, the Netherlands, Italy and Luxembourg.

Part of the ground lost with the defeat of EDC was recaptured when the seven nations signed the WEU treaty establishing a framework for bringing a rearmend West Germany into NATO.

French Premier Mendes-France, fresh from his narrow but solid parliamentary victory in getting the National Assembly to ratify WEU, will discuss the arms pool idea with Italian and West German leaders in Rome and Baden-Baden next week in advance of the arms pool conference. He undoubtedly will urge Italian Premier Mario Scelba and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer to endorse the project.

Officially, contents of the French memorandum still are secret, but French sources disclosed enough to show that it repeats some of the features of the European Steel and Coal Community (Schuman plan), the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, and even of the ill-fated EDC itself.

In this respect, as viewed from a French domestic political angle, it appears to be an effort by Mendes-France to win support from some advocates of European unification, or "Europeans" as they are called here, who still are bitter at his refusal to go all-out for the EDC.

Marines Ready Despite Mishap

BEAUFORT, N.C., Jan. 7 (AP)—Twenty-four Marines who had a close brush with disaster at sea last night were described today as ready to join their mates for a cruise to Puerto Rico.

The two dozen Marines were aboard five amphibious ducks that got into trouble in rough water off Beaufort Inlet. The ducks departed from the Morehead City Terminal for the LSD (Landing Ship, Dock) San Marcos, anchored about three miles out along with about 14 other transports.

One of the ducks capsized and the other four were grounded on sandbars. All men aboard were rescued by 2 a.m. today and were returned to shore, winding up a seven-hour sea and air search and rescue mission.

The five ill-fated ducks were in a group of nine ferrying Marines stationed at nearby Camp LeJeune and other southern bases out to the transports. The entire group will go to Puerto Rico for maneuvers. Loading operations were resumed today in calmer seas. Meanwhile, an investigation as to why the ducks were sent out in choppy seas was ordered.

Texan Begins Long Trek Home With Baby

ATHENS, Greece, Jan. 7 (AP)—Norman "Moose" Donahoe was assured by the U. S. Air Force today that he and his adopted 17-month-old child would ride on a plane leaving tomorrow morning for Naples. It will be the start of a return leg of his 13,000 mile air hitchhiking expedition to take brown-eyed Roni Marie home to Texas.

Greek authorities cut red tape and gave Roni Marie a passport and the U. S. consul issued a visa for the lively little foundling.

McCloskey Is Choice

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7 (AP)—Matthew H. McCloskey, Philadelphia building contractor, is chairman Paul M. Butler's choice for treasurer of the Democratic National Committee.

Johnson Headed Group

"I am seriously considering this to deal with a number of problems," Russell told a reporter. Such a watchdog group operated under the chairmanship of Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex), now the majority leader, before the Republicans took control of Congress in 1953.

In general, Democrats as well as Republicans continued to praise—with some reservations—the 33-point program outlined by the President yesterday.

The White House reported public reaction, judging from telegrams which came in, was "practically unanimous" in favor of the President's message, which several Democrats on Capitol Hill described as "somewhat New Dealish" in tone.

More than one Democrat expressed the view that Eisenhower had stolen much of the Democrats' campaign thunder with his program.

Fear Indirect Effect

Along with the defense question, these were some principal points on which congressional reaction showed signs of division:

Wages—Eisenhower's proposal to raise the nationwide minimum wage to 90 cents from 75 an hour got a generally favorable reception, though some lawmakers called for a bigger raise and others said a 15-cent increase might be too much. Southerners, in particular, feared an indirect effect on farm labor costs. No general support appeared for the President's companion proposal to include more workers under the minimum wage law.

Farm Prices—Democrats in both houses tended to turn thumbs down on the President's request that Congress let the new flexible price support system alone. Indications were the Senate, however, would comply at least until 1956 though the House might act this year to restore rigid supports.

Offer Little Support

Taft-Hartley Law—Reaction from both sides of the aisle indicated little if any more support for revising this law than developed last year, when all moves to amend it bogged down. Eisenhower called yesterday for amendments to "further the basic objectives" of the law.

As for defense, most lawmakers appeared to endorse the President's stand that the United States and its Allies must continue to spend billions for defense in years to come—and with his insistence on "balance and flexibility" in America's armed forces.

Two Chiang "Spies" Executed By Reds

LONDON, Jan. 7 (AP)—Communist China has executed two "Chiang spies" accused of compiling maps, Moscow radio said today.

The radio, broadcasting a Tass dispatch from Peiping, said 2,000 persons attended the trial and "approved" the verdict against the Chinese Nationalists.

The men executed were listed as Hu Ying Hua and Hsu Kuan Po. The trial was said to have been held in Haiming, Chekiang Province, on Jan. 3.

Jack "Dagnet" Webb To Wed Actress

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 7 (AP)—Jack (Dagnet) Webb, who solves mysteries on television, today made a mystery out of his upcoming wedding to actress Dorothy Towne.

He announced briefly that he and Miss Towne "will be married sometime next week somewhere in the Midwest."

Diplomat Arrives

BEIRUT, Lebanon, Jan. 7 (AP)—French diplomat Bertrand de la Sabliere has arrived in Beirut to assume the post of assistant director of the U.N. Relief and Works Agency which cares for 800,000 Palestine refugees, the agency said today.

MARRIED — Mrs. Harrison Williams, noted as one of world's "best dressed women" and Count Albert Edward Bismarck were married at Edgewater, N.J., Wednesday.

UN Secretary, Chou To Talk Again On Fliers

TOKYO, Saturday, Jan. 8 (AP)—Dag Hammarskjold and Premier Chou En-lai meet in Peiping again today after more than seven hours of talks in the case of the 11 U.S. airmen Red China jailed as "spies."

Neither in Peiping broadcasts nor in communications to United Nations headquarters from the U.N. secretary general's party has there been any hint of progress—or of stalemate either.

Indeed, the Red radio has not even mentioned the purpose of Hammarskjold's flying visit three days after his arrival in Peiping.

Peiping's controlled press has published only the reports of his arrival. The only notable incident is that Peiping has dropped—at least for the present—its incessant propaganda campaign against U.S. "espionage."

Only bare-bone announcements have issued from the closed meeting, where Hammarskjold, at the U.N. General Assembly's direction, is seeking release of the fliers and other U.N. personnel held in Red China.

For example, the only real news out of Peiping or U.N. headquarters in New York on yesterday's second day of negotiation was that the two met for 3 hours and 45 minutes and would meet again today.

Some sort of break may be imminent. Hammarskjold has said he intends to leave Peiping late this weekend. He has booked passage on a plane out of Hong Kong for next Thursday for the return trip.

Finally Gets Rid Of Wife's Flowers

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 7 (AP)—William J. Evertz, 60, had been steamed up for some time about the 8 or 10 flower pots his wife insisted that he should care for in their second floor apartment.

Last night Evertz reached the boiling point and pitched the flower pots out the window. Neighbors who had to duck some of the pots called police.

"It was about time I was getting rid of them," Evertz explained to the judge today. The judge fined Evertz $10 for disorderly conduct.

Fast Acting Stuff

WAYCROSS, Ga., Jan. 7 (AP)—Since announcement today they made that the city water would be fluoridated officials have received several calls about dead goldfish and the like from those protesting the strength of the chemical.

The officials haven't added a spoonful of the stuff yet.

Democrats Select August 27 As Date For 1956 Convention

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7 (AP)—The Democrats announced today they had picked Monday, Aug. 27—the second latest date in party history—to start their 1956 convention to nominate a candidate for President.

Paul M. Butler, new chairman of the party's national committee, said the date—five weeks later than the start of the last convention in 1952 and insuring a shorter campaign next year—had been selected after consultation with members of the party's executive committee and other leaders.

The date will be recommended to the full national committee at its next meeting. Party officers said they expected approval as a formality. The next meeting was called by Butler today for Jan. 19, but he said the only business planned then was electing a new

Found Dead In Bedroom By Her Son

Despondent Woman Shot In Head; Note Is Left To Family

CLEVELAND, Jan. 7 (AP)—The ailing, gray-haired mother of convicted wife-slayer Samuel Sheppard shot herself today in a locked bedroom, police said.

The death of Mrs. Ethel Sheppard, 62, was just before noon. Almost at the same time her son's attorneys dropped a motion for a new trial in Common Pleas Court and took the case to an appellate court.

Stephen Finds Body

Another son, Dr. Stephen Sheppard, found the body in an upstairs bedroom of his home, where his mother had been staying the past two days.

Using his own key to open the spring lock on the door, he saw the fully clothed body of his mother sprawled across a maple, four-poster bed. A snub-nosed .38 caliber revolver lay by her side and one shot had been fired behind her right ear.

Further across the room, which is papered in a gay blue and white floral design, a note lay on a card table, saying:

"Dear Steve: I just can't manage alone without father. . . Mother."

Her husband, tall, thin Dr. Richard A. Sheppard, is in Bay View Hospital, suffering with pleurisy. His family told him today of his wife's death and reported later that he is in serious condition, in danger of pneumonia.

Dr. Samuel heard the news in county jail, where he is awaiting the outcome of his court appeal on his conviction of second degree murder and a sentence of life imprisonment. He was convicted Dec. 21 of bludgeoning his pregnant wife, Marilyn, to death in their Bay Village home last July 4.

Sam Is Broken Up

Dr. Stephen and another brother, Dr. Richard A., told him today what had happened to his mother. Leaving the jail, Dr. Richard told a reporter, "Sam was all broken up by the news. He broke down and cried."

Dr. Samuel Sheppard's 7-year-old son, Chip, was playing in the basement of the Stephen Sheppard home today when his grandmother died in the bedroom above him. Staying with his uncle since his mother's death, Chip was home from school because of a cold.

Truck Driver Kidnaps Girl

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Jan. 7 (AP)—A 24-year-old truck driver, the father of two children, today was charged with kidnapping a high school girl while posing as a police officer.

City Detective Denis Quilligan reported the charge was placed against Raymond Gerald Weaver. Weaver was arrested by police after a citywide search for him and the missing girl.

Detective Walter W. Fishburne said Weaver, claiming he was an officer, stepped up to an automobile occupied by the girl and her boy friend late last night and said he planned to arrest them.

The boy and girl pleaded with him, and he finally said he would take the girl home. Instead of taking her home, Weaver took her to the outskirts of the city where he tried to force his attentions on the girl, Fishburne said.

The girl fled from the car and hitchhiked into town.

U. S. Has Lost Contact With Fields Family

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7 (AP)—The State Department said today it has lost touch with Noel and Herta Field in Budapest and got only a Red Hungarian "runaround" in trying to reach them again.

The 50-year-old Field and his Swiss-born wife were freed last Nov. 17 by Hungary after five years' imprisonment on spy charges.

The Budapest press and radio last Christmas Eve reported they had been granted asylum at their request. Official U.S. efforts to check on these reports have been unavailing.

"A mild expression would be a runaround," Henry Suydam, State Department press officer, told a news conference today.

As he described it, the runaround went like this:
U.S. Minister Christian M. Ravndal talked with Noel and Herta Field last Nov. 18 at the Budapest address supplied him by the Hungarian Foreign Office. The Fields had been freed the day before.

Ravndal reported the couple happy to be free but anxious to rest and relax after their ordeal. He said they planned to go to a hospital.

When Red radio and press reports Dec. 24 said the Fields would stay in Hungary, Ravndal sent aides back to the address. But the Fields had checked out around Dec. 15. He inquired at the Hungarian Foreign Office for an official statement on the press-radio reports. He was told the Fields could be found at the address already given him.

Ravndal went back was told again they had checked out. Suydam told newsmen the U.S. legation now is ignorant of the Fields' whereabouts.

Ky. Post Office Has
40,000 "Nixie" Cards

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 7 (AP)—That Christmas card you expected but didn't receive just might have been a "nixie."

That's what the post office calls mail with incomplete, incorrect or unknown addresses—and with no return address.

The Louisville Post Office revealed today that it inherited 40,000 nixies out of the 1954 Christmas mail.

One contained $25 in bills, another contained a $20 bill, several had single $10 and $5 bills and many contained $1 bills and checks.

Rescued Fishermen Reach Bermuda

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Jan. 7 (AP)—Ten grateful crew members plucked from their tiny fishing schooner sinking in heavy Atlantic seas reached port here today aboard the rescue ship, the luxury liner Queen of Bermuda.

Congress Differs On Ike's Message

Demos Uneasy Over Manpower Cuts

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7 (AP)—Congress took a second look today at President Eisenhower's State of the Union proposals, and differences of opinion began to arise over some of them.

Several of the Democrats who now control both houses voiced uneasiness over the President's plan to trim the armed forces' manpower and put more emphasis on air power and on "new weapons, especially those of rapid and destructive fighting power."

Sen. Russell (D-Ga.), who will head the Senate Armed Services Committee, said he may re-establish a special preparedness subcommittee with broad powers to look into defense policies and operations.

Johnson Headed Group

"I am seriously considering this to deal with a number of problems," Russell told a reporter. Such a watchdog group operated under the chairmanship of Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.), now the majority leader, before the Republicans took control of Congress in 1953.

In general, Democrats as well as Republicans continued to praise — with some reservations — the 33-point program outlined by the President yesterday.

The White House reported public reaction, judging from telegrams which came in, was "practically unanimous" in favor of the President's message, which several Democrats on Capitol Hill described as "somewhat New Dealish" in tone.

More than one Democrat expressed the view that Eisenhower had stolen much of the Democrats' campaign thunder with his program.

Fear Indirect Effect

Along with the defense question, these were some principal points on which congressional reaction showed signs of division:

Wages—Eisenhower's proposal to raise the nationwide minimum wage to 90 cents from 75 an hour got a generally favorable reception, though some lawmakers called for a bigger raise and others said a 15-cent increase might be too much. Southerners, in particular, feared an indirect effect on farm labor costs. No general support appeared for the President's companion proposal to include more workers under the minimum wage law.

Farm Prices—Democrats in both houses tended to turn thumbs down on the President's request that Congress let the new flexible price support system alone. Indications were the Senate, however, would comply at least until 1956 though the House might act this year to restore rigid supports.

Marines Ready Despite Mishap

BEAUFORT, N.C., Jan. 7 (AP)—Twenty-four Marines who had a close brush with disaster at sea last night were described today as ready to join their mates for a cruise to Puerto Rico.

The two dozen Marines were aboard five amphibious ducks that got into trouble in rough water off Beaufort Inlet. The ducks departed from the Morehead City Terminal for the LSD (Landing Ship, Dock) San Marcos, anchored about three miles out along with about 14 other transports.

One of the ducks capsized and the other four were grounded on sandbars. All men aboard were rescued by 2 a.m. today and were returned to shore, winding up a seven-hour sea and air search and rescue mission.

The five ill-fated ducks were in a group of nine ferrying Marines stationed at nearby Camp LeJeune and other southern bases out to the transports. The entire group will go to Puerto Rico for maneuvers. Loading operations were resumed today in calmer seas. Meanwhile, an investigation as to why the ducks were sent out in choppy seas was ordered.

Texan Begins Long Trek Home With Baby

ATHENS, Greece, Jan. 7 (AP)—Norman "Moose" Donahoe was assured by the U. S. Air Force today that he and his adopted 17-month-old child would ride on a plane leaving tomorrow morning for Naples. It will be the start of the return leg of his 13,000 mile air hitchhiking expedition to take brown-eyed Roni Marie home to Texas.

Greek authorities cut red tape and gave Roni Marie a passport and the U. S. consul issued a visa for the lively little founding.

Jack "Dragnet" Webb To Wed Actress

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 7 (AP)—Jack (Dragnet) Webb, who solves mysteries on television, today made a mystery out of his upcoming wedding to actress Dorothy Towne.

He announced briefly that he and Miss Towne "will be married sometime next week somewhere in the Midwest."

Diplomat Arrives

BEIRUT, Lebanon, Jan. 7 (AP)—French diplomat Bertrand de la Sabliere has arrived in Beirut to assume the post of assistant director of the U.N. Relief and Works Agency which cares for 800,000 Palestine refugees, the agency said today.

MARRIED — Mrs. Harrison Williams, noted as one of world's "best dressed women" and Count Albert Edward Bismarck were married at Edgewater, N.J., Wednesday.

UN Secretary, Chou To Talk Again On Fliers

TOKYO, Saturday, Jan. 8 (AP)—Dag Hammarskjold and Premier Chou En-lai meet in Peiping again today after more than seven hours of talks in the case of the 11 U.S. airmen Red China jailed as "spies."

Neither in Peiping broadcasts nor in communications to United Nations headquarters from the U.N. secretary general's party has there been any hint of progress—or of stalemate either.

Indeed, the Red radio has not even mentioned the purpose of Hammarskjold's flying visit three days after his arrival in Peiping.

Peiping's controlled press has published only the reports of his arrival. The only notable incident is that Peiping has dropped—at least for the present—its incessant propaganda campaign against U.S. "espionage."

Only bare-bone announcements have issued from the closed meeting, where Hammarskjold, at the U.N. General Assembly's direction, is seeking release of the fliers and other U.N. personnel held in Red China.

For example, the only real news out of Peiping or U.N. headquarters in New York on yesterday's second day of negotiation was that the two met for 3 hours and 45 minutes and would meet again today.

Some sort of break may be imminent. Hammarskjold has said he intends to leave Peiping late this weekend. He has booked passage on a plane out of Hong Kong for next Thursday for the return trip.

Finally Gets Rid Of Wife's Flowers

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 7 (AP)—William J. Evertz, 60, had been steamed up for some time about the 8 or 10 flower pots his wife insisted that he should care for in their second floor apartment.

Last night Evertz reached the boiling point and pitched the flower pots out the window. Neighbors who had to duck some of the pots called police.

"It was about time I was getting rid of them," Evertz explained to the judge today. The judge fined Evertz $10 for disorderly conduct.

Fast Acting Stuff

WAYCROSS, Ga., Jan. 7 (AP)—Since announcement was made that the city water would be fluoridated officials have received several calls about dead goldfish and the like from those protesting the strength of the chemical.

The officials haven't added a spoonful of the stuff yet.

Democrats Select August 27 As Date For 1956 Convention

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7 (AP)—The Democrats announced today they had picked Monday, Aug. 27—the second latest date in party history—to start their 1956 convention to nominate a candidate for President.

Paul M. Butler, new chairman of the party's national committee, said the date—five weeks later than the start of the last convention in 1952 and insuring a shorter campaign next year—had been selected after consultation with members of the party's executive committee and other leaders.

The date will be recommended to the full national committee at its next meeting. Party officers said they expected approval as a formality. The next meeting was called by Butler today for Jan. 19, but he said the only business planned then was electing a new party treasurer. He said he will recommend Matthew H. McCloskey, Philadelphia building contractor, to succeed the resigning Stanley Woodward, former diplomat.

Found Dead In Bedroom By Her Son

Despondent Woman
Shot In Head; Note

CLEVELAND, Jan. 7 (AP)—The ailing, gray-haired mother of convicted wife-slayer Samuel Sheppard shot herself today in a locked bedroom, police said.

The death of Mrs. Ethel Sheppard, 62, was just before noon. Almost at the same time her son's attorneys dropped a motion for a new trial in Common Pleas Court and took the case to an appellate court.

Stephen Finds Body

Another son, Dr. Stephen Sheppard, found the body in an upstairs bedroom of his home, where his mother had been staying the past two days.

Using his own key to open the spring lock on the door, he saw the fully clothed body of his mother sprawled across a maple, four-poster bed. A snub-nosed .38 caliber revolver lay by her side and one shot had been fired behind her right ear.

Further across the room, which is papered in a gay blue and white floral design, a note lay on a card table, saying: "Dear Steve: I just can't manage alone without father. . . Mother."

Her husband, tall, thin Dr. Richard A. Sheppard, is in Bay View Hospital, suffering with pleurisy. His family told him today of his wife's death and reported later that he is in serious condition, in danger of pneumonia.

Dr. Samuel heard the news in county jail, where he is awaiting the outcome of his court appeal on his conviction of second degree murder and a sentence of life imprisonment. He was convicted Dec. 21 of bludgeoning his pregnant wife, Marilyn, to death in their Bay Village home last July 4.

Sam Is Broken Up

Dr. Stephen and another brother, Dr. Richard A., told him today what had happened to his mother. Leaving the jail, Dr. Richard told a reporter, "Sam was all broken up by the news. He broke down and cried."

Dr. Samuel Sheppard's 7-year-old son, Chip, was playing in the basement of the Stephen Sheppard home today when his grandmother died in the bedroom above him. Staying with his uncle since his mother's death, Chip was home from school because of a cold.

Truck Driver Kidnaps Girl

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Jan. 7 (AP)—A 24-year-old truck driver, the father of two children, today was charged with kidnapping a high school girl while posing as a police officer.

City Detective Denis Quilligan reported the charge was placed against Raymond Gerald Weaver. Weaver was arrested by police after a citywide search for him and the missing girl.

Detective Walter W. Fishburne said Weaver, claiming he was an officer, stepped up to an automobile occupied by the girl and her boyfriend late last night and said he planned to arrest them.

The boy and girl pleaded with him, and he finally said he would take the girl home. Instead of taking her home, Weaver took her to the outskirts of the city where he tried to force his attentions on the girl, Fishburne said.

The girl fled from the car and hitchhiked into town.

Community Throws Victory Party, Steel Plant Stays

FOLLANSBEE, W. Va., Jan. 7 (AP)—Follansbee folks murmured a blessing on the heads of 47 minority stockholders in the local steel plant today and threw a "rip-snorter" of a victory party.

The victory they celebrated all day is an important one—virtually a triumph of survival. It means Follansbee Steel Corp. plant, the economic heart of this community of 4,500, remains where it is—right here in Follansbee.

For months, local residents had battled prospects of sale and removal of the plant. It paid by far the biggest share of tax money required to keep the community alive. And it employed 740 persons.

Residents argued the old mill whistle blows the breath of economic life into this West Virginia community some 30 miles west of Pittsburgh. They said without it, they'd have a ghost town.

Their argument was heard by 47 minority stockholders who successfully blocked the proposed sale.

Frederick W. Richmond, New York financier who owned the plant, originally planned to dispose of it to Republic Steel Corp. Republic wanted to move most of the mill's equipment to its Gadsden, Ala., operation.

The minority stockholders initiated a delaying action which brought a Federal court opinion and ultimately the sale to a group headed by Cleveland industrialist Cyrus S. Eaton. Terms of the sale included a promise to operate the plant here for at least three years.

Merchants and steelworkers agreed that three more years of pay days provided hope. And they congratulated each other on the way community interest stepped in to write a chapter in the lore of American business.

The guest list included U. S. Sens. Kefauver, of Tenn.; Neely and Kilgore, of West Virginia; Rep. Wayne Hays, of Ohio; David J. McDonald, president of United Steel Workers; Max Zivian, president of Detroit Steel; Atty. Gen. John Fox, of West Virginia, and Mayor Tom Millson, of Weirton, W. Va., another steel center.

Advisory Group Backs Highway Spending Plan

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7 (AP)—A mammoth program of highway building costing federal and state governments 101 billion dollars over the next 10 years won the backing today of President Eisenhower's advisory commission on highways.

Some details of the commission's findings were disclosed by its executive director, Frank Turner, a few hours in advance of a special preview of the report for congressional leaders.

The report contains two sharp points of departure from existing policy:

1. It provides for the federal government to pay "substantially all" the money required for modernizing the "strategic network" of interstate highways, covering about 40,000 miles of roads—about 24 billion dollars.

2. It calls for the establishment of a huge new financing agency which would float bonds to pay for the federal portion of highway construction. It was indicated that the financing program would have certain self-liquidating features, but details were not given.

The final draft of the report is due to reach the President's desk next Tuesday. On Jan. 27, Eisenhower will submit his highway program to Congress. Some details may be changed by then, but it is expected his report in general will follow the commission's line of reasoning.

Under present plans, a total of 47 billion dollars is slated to be spent on highway improvements in the next 10 years, of which 10 billion will be provided by the federal government, the rest by the states.

Eisenhower's "grand plan" calls for an additional expenditure of about 54 billion in an effort to develop maximum use of highways for a possible national emergency.

New Building Record Is Set

BALTIMORE, Jan. 7 (AP)—Building boomed to a new record in the Baltimore metropolitan area in 1954, a survey of building permit records showed today.

The total value of all permits issued in Baltimore and Baltimore and Anne Arundel Counties was $219,984,000, compared with $210,311,000 in 1953.

The total value for dwelling units was $144,123,000, compared with $127,597,000 the previous year.

Suburban areas of the two counties contributed much more than the city itself to the new record.

The money spent on new homes within the city limits, for example, continued to dwindle. It was about 47 million in 1950 and came down to about 31 million last year.

The spectacular burgeoning of new homes in the Baltimore county suburbs is illustrated by the jump from 51 million worth of building permits in 1951 to 56 million in 1952, 73 million in 1953 and 90 million last year.

Cow Has Bovine Rarity By Giving Birth To Triplets

BALTIMORE, Jan. 7 (AP)—An Aberdeen-Angus cow made it three of a kind today by giving birth to triplets, something of a rarity in the bovine world.

It happens only three times in every 10,000 beef cattle births.

The three bull calves were born at Edgehill Farms in nearby Glynndon.

The mother: Happy Hills Queen Pat II, a registered 5-year-old Aberdeen-Angus. The proud father: Bandolierian of Cold Saturday.

Donald M. Culver, owner of the farm said the triplets were a surprise.

$1,235,718 In Fines Collected In Baltimore

BALTIMORE, Jan. 7 (AP)—Fines totaling $1,235,718 were collected from motorists in Baltimore's Traffic Court during 1954. The net take was $947,937.

Chief Magistrate Stanley Scherr said the net was an increase of $146,435 or 18.5 per cent above the net total in 1953.

Wants Sports Arena

BALTIMORE, Jan. 7 (AP)—A Baltimore delegate in the General Assembly said today he will try to get the Legislature to approve a 5-million dollar bond issue for a sports arena and convention hall.

Del. Edward J. McNeal (D-Balto-3rd) said his proposal would call for a Baltimore Arena authority to plan, build and operate the facility.

Webster Writes About Water For School Site

WESTERNPORT — A letter from Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster concerning the supply of water in the Greene's Addition area where a new high school will be constructed was read at the meeting of the Mayor and Commissioners Wednesday evening.

Webster wrote that present indications are that storage facilities will have to be built above the school. The alternative is to have the water pumped from a lower level.

Mayor Okey E. Michael's reply also was read. In it he said that the town is planning to improve its water system by construction of a filtration plant. He also wrote that the water situation in the Greene's Addition section is acute and will have to be improved. However, it is not in the present improvement plan.

The Mayor and Commissioners hope to meet with the County Board of Education at any early date so that a program can be readied for presentation to the County Delegation by January 15.

Hinkle, Wiley Ford, Joyce Boone, Keyser, and Shirley Rogers, Burlington.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Baysinger, Brandonville, are youth counselors of the district.

For Those Who Follow

Imagine picking your way along a frozen wilderness trail.

You're bitterly cold, but see no sign of human habitation, mile after terrifying mile.

Then, thanks to someone who's already gone this way, you come upon a crude shack. Even with shelter you could still freeze to death, but you find wood already gathered for a fire.

Later, before venturing on, you too pile high more wood for someone yet to come.

No matter who you are—or where—your life marks a trail that someone is following. Along that way is the Church—a haven from storms of the world.

Yet the building alone is not enough. It must have people to work in it and to gather fuel for the fires of faith.

Look ahead as your fathers did before you. Begin today to support and strengthen the Church for those yet to come.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

For Those Who Follow

Imagine picking your way along a frozen wilderness trail.

You're bitterly cold, but see no sign of human habitation, mile after terrifying mile.

Then, thanks to someone who's already gone this way, you come upon a crude shack. Even with shelter you could still freeze to death, but you find wood already gathered for a fire.

Later, before venturing on, you too pile high more wood for someone yet to come.

No matter who you are—or where—your life marks a trail that someone is following. Along that way is the Church—a haven from storms of the world.

Yet the building alone is not enough. It must have people to work in it and to gather fuel for the fires of faith.

Look ahead as your fathers did before you. Begin today to support and strengthen the Church for those yet to come.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Building In Cumberland Shows Increase

Building in Cumberland during 1954 took a $110,000 spurt over 1953, according to the records of building permits issued by the city engineer's office.

The cost of construction of new homes and buildings, and improvements and additions to existing structures was estimated at $708,500 in the permits granted.

Last year the total was $598,545, the second lowest since 1946.

During the past year, 65 families received permits to build new residences within the city limits. Also 44 houses had additions or substantial improvements.

Two new structures for businesses were erected, while 24 business establishments added to or improved their properties.

The big month for construction was June when the permits totaled $170,650. Next was April with $97,000 and third, September with $88,925.

Other monthly totals were: January, $13,650; February, $17,700; March, $41,550; May, $54,025; July, $48,900; August, $38,450; October, $37,825; November, $61,410; and December, $38,475.

The biggest building year since 1945 was in 1951 when the total reached $2,066,128. The next biggest year was in 1950 with $1,086,590 listed.

City Recreation Program Cited

The City Recreation Department will get its 1955 program under way with programs for youngsters and oldsters.

Robert E. Pence, city recreation director yesterday outlined the activities that will start within the next two weeks.

On Saturday, January 15, a basketball instruction program for boys in the city's public and parochial school Fifth and Sixth grades will begin.

The sessions will be held each Saturday in the Fort Hill and Allegheny high school gymnasiums and will offer the basic instructions of the games for the boys.

For the girls of the same grades the Recreation Department will conduct a session of games, dancing and dramatics once a week for eight weeks in each elementary school in the city.

The periods will be held after the classes in the afternoons, Pence said, and will be supervised by Recreation Department leaders.

On Thursday, January 20, from 2 to 4 p. m. in the Elks Home a club for Cumberland's senior citizens will be organized.

The activities of this group for men and women over 65 years of age will include card games, checkers, chess, dominoes, art and crafts, community singing and other events.

Representing Local 1874 of the Amelie plant here were Earl Snyder, president, and Melvin Harris, business manager.

Kilroy Is Elected Head Of Bartenders

Hugh J. Kilroy was elected president of Bartenders Local 569, AFL, at a recent meeting at the Eagles home.

Other officers named were William Shipley, vice president; Joseph H. es, recording secretary; Arthur L. Siebert, financial secretary and business agent; Walter Koelker, James Whiteman, Ned Joyce and Edgar Merritt, executive committee.

Earl Kalbaugh, of Westernport is business agent for the Bartenders Union in the Tri-Towns area. Officers and executive committee will meet tomorrow at 1:30 p. m. at the Eagles home.

The next membership meeting will be February 6 at 11 a. m. at the Eagles home.

Local 1874 Officials Attend TWUA Session

A conference was held yesterday in Washington by officials of various Textile Workers Union of America (CIO) locals which have contracts with the Celanese Corporation of America.

Representing Local 1874 of the Amelie plant here were Earl Snyder, president, and Melvin Harris, business manager.

B & O Bridge Worker Hurt In 40 Feet Fall

A Baltimore and Ohio Railroad bridge worker was admitted to Memorial Hospital Thursday with injuries sustained in a 40-foot fall at the Magnolia Bridge east of here on the Cumberland Division.

Dan Harmon, 53, of Romney, received a fractured right wrist and possible internal injuries as a result of the fall, hospital attaches said.

Personal Property Tax Papers Being Mailed

The Assessing Department of Allegheny County began mailing out personal property tax schedules yesterday at the Court House.

The tax schedules are for the year 1955 and are being sent out to 2,500 business and professional people. They are sent to all businesses, except corporations. Corporations have their personal property taxes handled through the State Tax Commission.

Funds For C&O Parkway To Be Sought

All out efforts are being made by U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall and Rep. DeWitt S. Hyde to obtain federal funds in the new budget for the beginning of the construction of the C&O Canal Parkway, the latter said yesterday.

Rep. Hyde made the announcement on his first visit to his local office in the Cumberland Post Office Building since being elected November 2.

However, he brought with him the news that the defense program, and needs for school construction will furnish the major drag on the budget this year, and it will be difficult to obtain additional funds for public works projects.

Rep. Hyde will be in his office today until noon to meet area residents who have business with their congressman.

Constable Of McCoolle Area Is Named

Homer Ambrose of McCoolle was named constable at large for that community yesterday by the Allegheny County Board of Commissioners. He will be paid on a fee basis.

Commissioner James Orr proposed naming Ambrose and it was seconded by Commissioner William H. Lemmert. When the man's name was placed before the board Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson made a motion to name James O. Clark. This motion was lost for want of a second.

Wilkinson said that Clark had applied for the job several weeks ago.

A complaint was received from John Ridenbaugh of RD 1, Oldtown, concerning water running from a county road onto his property. The matter was referred to J. Walker Chapman, roads supervisor.

David Kirk, an employee of the county in the land records office, was named to a Citizens Committee to Keep Maryland Beautiful.

Blubaugh, who resides in the eastern part of the county, won the place on the team for his performance during the state 4-H poultry judging at the State Fair at Timonium in August.

Since August, he has made two trips to the University of Maryland for poultry judging review work with the other members of the team, all boys from Washington County.

He was selected after a letter from Gov. McKeldin was read in which the state head asked that someone from Allegheny County be named to the group by the commissioners.

Kirk is president of the Allegheny-Garrett County Volunteer Firemen's Association.

Commissioner Lemmert gave a report on the meeting Wednesday at City Hall on the redistricting of Allegheny County by the Election

Board. He also told of the proposed coordination of city and county polling places.

The board received literature from one firm which manufactures voting machines. A proposed state law would make the voting machine mandatory by 1958 and in the event they must be bought by the county they would be purchased under a state loan program.

Blubaugh, who resides in the eastern part of the county, won the place on the team for his performance during the state 4-H poultry judging at the State Fair at Timonium in August.

University Of Maryland And Autonomy Powers

Senator Kimble has called upon the Maryland legislature to repeal the autonomy powers it granted the University of Maryland three years ago.

We are completely in sympathy with this move, our thinking being that public institutions operated with public moneys should not be operated, as it were, behind closed doors.

Senator Kimble, who voted to grant the autonomy powers when the question arose in 1952, now says those powers have been abused. He says he "never thought they would say they are supreme to the General Assembly and to the governor of Maryland."

The senator, who also is minority floor leader of the Senate, adds that the "thing that convinced me we gave the university too much power" was refusal of the board of regents to release an evaluation report which first came to light during last fall's gubernatorial campaign between Gov. McKeldin and Dr. H. C. Byrd, former president of the university.

It was unfortunate that the matter was brought up at that time since the public generally drew the conclusion that it was "politics."

Nonetheless, the board of regents eventually issued a statement confirming the university was given until 1956 to correct criticisms laid by the Middle States Association of Colleges. It had been claimed the association withheld accreditation of the university because it did not measure up to certain standards.

It is our opinion, as we noted before, that the public should not be kept in the dark concerning the operation of any public institution, including the University of Maryland. The people have a right to know how their money is being spent and their institutions are being administered.

Former Delegate Whitworth sought to have the evaluation report released, but the board of regents defended their position in the courts where it was held the autonomy act gave the regents the right to keep it confidential.

Should the report eventually be made public, there lies with the public a great deal of responsibility in understanding and not misinterpreting what it is all about.

Senator Kimble's move to repeal the autonomy powers of the university very likely will run into much debate before this session of the legislature is ended, but we hope his move is successful.

The Vitt Letter

The letter which George N. Vitt addressed to Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, concerning Wolf Ladejinsky, is a long document of eight papers, typed single space. Apparently, Mr. Vitt has been waiting a long time to get it off his chest. Very little of the letter directly refers to Wolf Ladejinsky. He makes no pretense at having made any investigation concerning Ladejinsky.

The letter starts with an analysis of immigration to this country, an analysis which is strictly unrelated to the facts. For instance, he says:

"Most of immigrants coming from Russia before 1900 were members of religious sects who sought (sic) a place for free exercise of their peculiar faith. The Duhobors are a perfect example and their faith is a pagan aberration of Christianity. The Starovers, who crossed themselves with two fingers, were less 'aberrated' but fanatics just the same. These people were for the most part ignorant peasants and their cultural level was not raised as could be expected under the environmental conditions of the U.S.A. and Canada — they are still largely 'peasants'."

Between 1881 and 1900, the immigration from Russia, Poland and the Baltic States was not large, from about 10,000 in 1881 to 90,000 in 1900 and increasing constantly. It is not true that most of them were religious refugees or peasants; most of them were middle class persons who escaped from political persecution under the czars.

Vitt says:

"Immigrants who came from Russia in the period of 1904-5 could be called draft evaders during the Russo-Japanese War—traitors to their country in spite of the fact that that war was unpopular in Russia. A great many of that wave were Jews. No matter how much that war was hated in Russia, those who stayed to fight the Japanese had mostly contempt for the deserters. These were also largely from the lower and peasant classes."

The immigration from Russia did increase during 1904-5. But the rate of increase was not startling: 107,000 in 1902; 136,000 in 1903; 145,000 in 1904; 184,000 in 1905. Actually the largest increases occurred after the Russo-Japanese War was over: 215,000 in 1906; 258,000 in 1907. Draft evasion therefore was not the cause of the immigration; the cause was the oppressive conditions of life in Russia leading to revolution. Curiously, Vitt is altogether wrong about what happened in 1919 and since then. In 1919 and 1920, together, only 3,000 Russians came to this country. The highest immigration since then was in 1923 with only 21,000 immigrants. (Source for figures: Historical Statistics of the United States 1789-1945, Bureau of the Census.)

Dealing then with the first page of Vitt's letter, his conclusions do not relate to the data. However, he does say that the "post-1919 wave of Russian refugees was politically and otherwise desirable." That wave includes him!

I need to quote a few paragraphs because Vitt explains his personal interest:

"It so happens that I was the only Russian speaking qualified sales engineer on the export staff of the Caterpillar Tractor Co. at that time. It also happened that the top management of Caterpillar decided to use me, a 'white Russian,' in its relations with Amtorg, thus risking to displease the obviously Red Amtorg bosses, and against my own inclinations."

"The first Caterpillar deal with Soviets for tractors was initiated by me successfully in July 1927 at the Road Building Show in San Francisco, where Soviet engineers, accompanied by secret police (posing as members of purchasing delegations) and their own interpreters. In two years Caterpillar became by far the largest individual supplier of heavy equipment to Amtorg—over $18,000,000 worth."

"To say that I had become familiar with Amtorg is putting it mildly . . ." etc., etc.

I think that I have given enough of this letter to show what it all is.

"We Can Build Iron Curtains, Too!"

Eisenhower Speech Viewed As 'Covering Waterfront'

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower's message covered the waterfront. He urged that something be done about everything but he didn't say when. He is for peace, prosperity, better defense, lower taxes next year, and he even thinks "the arts" and culture should come in for a bit of governmental recognition.

It was perhaps the best political speech ever delivered in the form of an opening address to Congress. It took the wind out of the sails of the "left wing" Democrats, including those who believe in a "welfare state." What could they advocate now? And it was worded with sufficient caution and alternative generalities to keep the conservatives in both parties from being too much alarmed.

Yet it wasn't a middle-of-the-road speech in any sense. Positive recommendations for social-welfare legislation were accompanied by rather definite pronouncements about the need for prudence and economical handling of the nation's finances.

Vote Will Show Divergence

After hearing the message, Representative Francis E. Walter of Pennsylvania, Democrat, quipped that the speech "sounded like he (Eisenhower) is a candidate on both tickets." This describes the political overtones of the address, though it doesn't necessarily confirm the bipartisan character of the recommendations. For many of the proposals will split the Democratic as well as the Republican party, and the final votes will show considerable divergence within both parties.

The comments afterward from the Democrats were characteristic. They said about what political opponents always say — "well delivered," "general," or "must wait for details." Nobody on the Democratic side waxed wildly enthusiastic — and the Republicans gave it the praise their party leader is expected to be given on such an occasion. They all saw the political implications of the message.

The President said something on almost every subject except "civil rights" legislation. His recommendations showed evidence of their having been worked on for a long time. In many respects, the address was far better organized and better phrased than any legislative message President Eisenhower has sent to Congress.

Lots of controversies are imbedded in the general phrases of the address. Even if Congress were disposed to act on the principal topics, there are enough issues in them to keep both houses busy not just for one session but for several sessions.

The President was well advised when, in somewhat subtle but nevertheless significant fashion, he expressed the hope that partisanship would not be abandoned merely on international policy, as he felt that there should be cooperation wherever the good of the good of the country is involved. This is but another way of warning the Democrats that he hasn't forgotten their campaign pledges to uphold his policies. The opposition party is somewhat embarrassed by that blanket promise and is trying now to qualify it by saying the President will be supported when he is right and opposed when he is wrong.

Baering Down on The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Adlai Stevenson and Tomasso Dewey are law partners. But not with each other.

That law business is a pretty good racket. In America it doesn't make any difference which side you're on.

We were reasonably established during the campaign when Franklin Delano the twice said he was head swiveler in a law office of 30 partners.

That's an echelon of influential squaddage. But Darrow, Earl Rogers, Hummel and Fallon would spot you 29 if you gave 'em one partner on the jury.

We were at the Dayton, Tenn., monkey trial and we're not certain whether Clarence had one on that jury or not. It might have been two.

There are doubtful elements in the scheme of things. A scalded cat and a bigamist's brothers-in-law.

Tomahawk Dewey goes into law practice because he wants to stack up some moola for his family. Governor Tom's Albany hide-away in Albany is the second biggest job in America. The first is opening mail for Liberate.

We have watched the twilight careers of our biggies when the shadows fall the wrong way. Cal Coolidge and Al Smith got to be presidents of insurance companies. Well, so did Mr. Pickett who led that charge at Gettysburg. Jim Farley enjoys the payday pause that refreshes.

Politically, Mr. Eisenhower took the right track for 1954 — if he's thinking about the presidential contest which is less than 18 months away. But lots of things can happen in that interval, and the Democrats have the advantage of being able to wait till the crucial moments of next year to appraise how much has been accomplished and what has been left undone.

Took Right Track

So much of the present-day political combat is waged over phrases and slogans that, when a president with a few good ghost writers comes up with a speech that outdoes the masterpieces of any of the New Deal or Fair Deal ghost writers of the past, it tends to disconcert the "opposition." To strive for the support of the maximum number of groups in the electorate is good politics, especially when the time lag between promise and performance is certain to be somewhat lengthy and beset by all sorts of amusements and alternative plans which at a moment's notice can be intercepted by the Democrats as "in the public interest."

Stassen became a college president. So did like but he snapped out of it. Whatever those boys do they make certain life starts at 10 in the morning.

Both Adlai and Tom talk their best off observation platforms. If they ever get elected to Supreme Court they'll move the joint over to Union Station.

Demo Caucus Gave Vent To Pent Up Resentment Against GOP Campaign

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — When veteran Congressman Clarence Brown of Ohio opened the secret Republican caucus this week, he said with a chuckle: "I do not have a schedule of procedure. However, when the Democrats completed their caucus in this chamber a few hours ago, they perhaps inadvertently left a copy of their agenda behind them. Maybe we should adopt it here as a gesture of good will. We have to get along with these fellows for the next two years."

Brown would hardly have suggested following the Democrats had he known what transpired at the opposition caucus. There "Mr. Sam" Rayburn of Texas—the "Mr. Big" of the House of Representatives — unloaded some pent-up steam which had been bothering him, as well as many other Democrats, for some time.

"This country must come first," the new speaker proclaimed. "On issues affecting the national security the President can expect and will get our support."

"However," continued Rayburn, "we Democrats cannot forget some of the tactics employed by the President's own party in the last campaign, the reckless smearing of Democrats as alleged traitors, with which the President saw fit to identify himself."

Rayburn specifically singled out Vice President Nixon as the bellwether of these attacks. But he also pinned responsibility on Eisenhower. The President, he said, had first contended he hadn't read Nixon's statement in the newspapers. Later he praised Nixon for doing a "great job" in the last campaign.

"In my estimation, that makes

Eisenhower a party to these unwarranted attacks on our patriotism," Rayburn told the secret caucus. "I'm of a forgiving nature, but I cannot forgive or forget the nasty aspersions that were hurled on my party by some people high in the councils of the Republican party."

"Attacks on our loyalty, as Americans, are far beyond the normally accepted tactics in a political campaign," said the man who has served longer consecutively in Congress than anyone else. "The last campaign marked an all-time low for gutter politics and political muckraking."

No More Pearl Harbors

Rayburn further told the closed-door session that with the world "sitting on the edge of a precipice," Democrats in Congress would give no support to GOP efforts to balance the federal budget "at the sacrifice of an adequate national defense."

"I hate to pay taxes the same as everyone else, including the New York bankers who are preaching about a balanced budget at a time when our democratic economy is threatened by the deadliest foreign enemy we have ever faced," said Mr. Sam.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, he recalled, pleaded in vain for sufficient defense funds prior to World War II.

"That war eventually cost us about $400,000,000,000 Rayburn continued, "whereas the expenditure of a few more billions earlier might have prevented the Jap attack of Pearl Harbor."

"The same is true today," concluded the speaker. "Even though it throws the budget out of balance, we must spare no defense spending to make our nation so strong that no predatory dictator or international pirate will dare attack us."

Spotless Governor

Unlike some Washington bureaucrats, the governor of Puerto Rico

is not opposed to taking a suggestion from the press.

Last month this column reported:

"Mystery surrounds the reason why General Motors continues to be the highest bidder and get contracts despite that. Recently, Puerto Rico asked bids on 50 buses. Lowest bid was made by Mack trucks. Highest bid was by General Motors — $900 per bus higher than Mack. General Motors got the contract. Total extra cost to Puerto Ricans, $45,000."

Gov. Munoz Marin, who has a spotless record for honesty in government, read the column in the San Juan El Imparcial, immediately jumped into action. He canceled the contract for school buses ordered his transportation authority to ask for new bids. He went even further. His office took the trouble to write a letter to this column expressing appreciation for calling the matter to his attention.

There was only one tense moment in the otherwise outwardly calm Democratic closed-door caucus. This was when West Virginia's Congressman Cleveland Bailey defied his party's leaders and forced them to permit him to make a speech.

The genial Bailey comes from a part of West Virginia suffering tragic unemployment in the coal mines. So he took Speaker Sam Rayburn aside as the caucus opened and warned that he would propose to the full caucus that it abolish the customary rule limiting the meeting to the picking of leaders. Such a motion would open the love fest to wrangles over various thorny political questions.

Inside Bailey's pocket was the text of a stirring speech on West Virginia. And this threat was his way of telling Sam that he meant to deliver it.

"I'll never get all 231 of these fellows together again to tell them the sad economic story of my state," Bailey told Speaker Rayburn.

Pull Yourself Together

By Brother Barnabas

After a period of dissipation, secular, religious and otherwise, it is not easy to pull oneself together, especially when Christmas, New Year's and Twelfth Night come so close apart.

Our faculties are not fully awake and active, and we are apt to remain in the doldrums till we can get our second wind.

The backward look over the past year fills our minds with somber thoughts and feelings, and we look hopefully and wonderingly to the future.

It has been said that "curiosity killed the cat." The question remains, "What was the cat curious about, and what was the score at the end of the 7th inning."

Man is just as curious as the cat. We would like to know what the future holds for us, but fortunately a wise Providence withholds that information.

Hope Most Valuable

Pandora, you remember, was curious about the content of the box Zeus gave her. Womanlike, she pried into it. Then came trouble. All the ills humanity is heir to flew out and distributed themselves all over the earth. Only hope remained, and that is man's most valuable possession.

God only knows what the New Year holds for the race. The wisecracks say we are, by and large, in for a good year, with the threat of war lessening.

In our human judgment the New Year in its main outlines will follow the pattern of the old. Birth, marriage and death will go on as usual.

People will work, play, go to school, go to church and, sad to say, some will go to jail.

A church bulletin announced: "Lost at church last Sunday a topcoat. If you happen to have the wrong coat by mistake, contact the minister and he will put you in touch with the owner." I would add: "If not by mistake, contact the policeman, and he will put you where you belong."

The Bible contains many paradoxes. Ecclesiastes 1:9 reads: "What has been is what will be, and what has been done is what will be done; and there is nothing new under the sun."

And Revelation 21:3 reads: "Behold, I make all things new." Babies are as old as Creation, and yet each baby born is "new to earth and sky."

Formula For Impressing Wives

Most folks like things brand-new. There are exceptions, however. There are always a lot of "Oh's" and "Ah's" when a new baby appears in a company, especially of women.

The Missus, jaded by her thread-worn outfit, longs for a new suit and hat to match, and a Dior blouse, and costume jewelry, et cetera, and the way to impress your wife is to do something for her you can't afford.

The exceptions are: old wine, old friends, old songs, old books, such as mother's Bible, secondhand cars.

A man should always dress so his car will not be ashamed of him. That's why old cars are popular. Small children prefer an old rag doll to a sparkling roseate one, until they grow sophisticated. Men like dolls too — of the human variety.

When one moves into a new house and in a new neighborhood, there are adjustments to be made comparable to breaking in a new pair of shoes.

If you must ride to your work and have no car, you must learn your bus schedule and set your watch or clock, accordingly. Otherwise you may be told that when the clock strikes ten it is 15 minutes after 9, and when you return in the evening at five, you find that your bus went at 6 yesterday.

It is said that in a certain city with 600,000 phones, 60,000 subscribers dial for the correct time daily.

Our local telephone company is spending oodles of money to improve public communication service. In this coming August my phone will be listed as "Parkview 6677."

"Talkathon" Exchange

This subscriber suggests a further improvement, the addition of a separate exchange for "talkathons," and that it be prefixed "Nightingale," since it would be loaded with nighttime trivia that monopolize the wires to the exclusion of important matters that can hardly wait.

I have a friend who gives me a calendar each year. I hang it on my study wall, and each day I look into its face and am reminded when it is time to pay my bills or go to church, or of Whosit's birthday.

Just yesterday it seems (actually it was January 1, 1954) a bright new edition appeared and I have since followed its career.

To me it has been a handmaid of the Eternal, relating me to the sun, moon and stars which He has made.

The leaves serve their day and pass away, reminding me by contrast of the man who delights in the law of the Lord, whose leaf does not wither (Psalms 1:2-3).

This little pixy helps me carry heavy loads by parceling them into small portions according to the principle that "as thy days, so shall thy strength be" (Deuteronomy 33:25).

Now we are under the aegis of 1955. Turn over a new leaf. Pull yourself together. "Don't flinch, don't foul, hit the line hard." Easy does it.

Yours for a Happy New Year!

BROTHER BARNABAS

It takes no great talent, is the timely reminder of Father John La Farge, "to spread suspicion, fear, and hate. The tools are always at hand, the audience ready, and a halo of holy zeal is always easily adjusted to any ambitious writer's brow. On the other hand, it is tough going when you are striving to build up the full strength, spiritual and temporal, of many according to the image of his Creator. It is hard to offer no panaceas, and to teach the patient conquering of one's personal and racial prejudices.

Father La Farge remains, however, a confirmed optimist. "It's too easy to become pessimistic like my friend, Mart Jones, in Maryland," he says. "I once remarked to Mart that the weather was beautiful. Poor Mart answered dolefully, 'I hate fine weather. Fine weather breeds bad weather!'"

Dealing then with the first page of Vitt's letter, his conclusions do not relate to the data. However, he does say that the "post-1919 wave of Russian refugees was politically and otherwise desirable." That wave includes him!

I need to quote a few paragraphs because Vitt explains his personal interest:

"It so happens that I was the only Russian speaking qualified sales engineer on the export staff of the Caterpillar Tractor Co. at that time. It also happened that the top management of Caterpillar decided to use me, a 'white Russian,' in its relations with Amtorg, thus risking to displease the obviously Red Amtorg bosses, and against my own inclinations."

"The first Caterpillar deal with Soviets for tractors was initiated by me successfully in July 1927 at the Road Building Show in San Francisco, where Soviet engineers, accompanied by secret police (posing as members of purchasing delegations) and their own interpreters. In two years Caterpillar became by far the largest individual supplier of heavy equipment to Amtorg—over $18,000,000 worth."

"To say that I had become familiar with Amtorg is putting it mildly . . ." etc., etc.

I think that I have given enough of this letter to show what it all is.

Eisenhower Speech Viewed As 'Covering Waterfront'

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower's message covered the waterfront. He urged that something be done about everything but he didn't say when. He is for peace, prosperity, better defense, lower taxes next year, and he even thinks "the arts" and culture should come in for a bit of governmental recognition.

It was perhaps the best political speech ever delivered in the form of an opening address to Congress. It took the wind out of the sails of the "left wing" Democrats, including those who believe in a "welfare state." What could they advocate now? And it was worded with sufficient caution and alternative generalities to keep the conservatives in both parties from being too much alarmed.

Yet it wasn't a middle-of-the-road speech in any sense. Positive recommendations for social-welfare legislation were accompanied by rather definite pronouncements about the need for prudence and economical handling of the nation's finances.

Vote Will Show Divergence

After hearing the message, Representative Francis E. Walter of Pennsylvania, Democrat, quipped that the speech "sounded like he (Eisenhower) is a candidate on both tickets." This describes the political overtones of the address, though it doesn't necessarily confirm the bipartisan character of the recommendations. For many of the proposals will split the Democratic as well as the Republican party, and the final votes will show considerable divergence within both parties.

The comments afterward from the Democrats were characteristic. They said about what political opponents always say — "well delivered," "general," or "must wait for details." Nobody on the Democratic side waxed wildly enthusiastic — and the Republicans gave it the praise their party leader is expected to be given on such an occasion. They all saw the political implications of the message.

The President said something on almost every subject except "civil rights" legislation. His recommendations showed evidence of their having been worked on for a long time. In many respects, the address was far better organized and better phrased than any legislative message President Eisenhower has sent to Congress.

Work For Several Sessions

Lots of controversies are imbedded in the general phrases of the address. Even if Congress were disposed to act on the principal topics, there are enough issues in them to keep both houses busy not just for one session but for several sessions.

The President was well advised when, in somewhat subtle but nevertheless significant fashion, he expressed the hope that partisanship would not be abandoned merely on international policy, as he felt that there should be cooperation wherever the good of the country is involved. This is but another way of warning the Democrats that he hasn't forgotten their campaign pledges to uphold his policies. The opposition party is somewhat embarrassed by that blanket promise and is trying now to qualify it by saying the President will be supported when he is right and opposed when he is wrong. That's a loophole for partisan attacks and dissent, but Mr. Eisenhower nevertheless, by mobilizing public opinion, can put his opponents in a hole if they do finally succumb to the partisan temptation of opposition to opposition's sake.

There were some Democrats who said publicly the speech by the President sounded "New Dealism," and there were Republicans who said the same thing privately. Actually, the Eisenhower address shows the strength of modern political propaganda which seeks to promise the moon, "because, if you don't, the other fellow will." The appeal to materialism apparently is still the dominant note to be struck — and it didn't start with the New Deal either.

Took Right Tack

So much of the present-day political combat is waged over phrases and slogans that, when a president comes up with a speech that outdoes the masterpieces of any of the New Deal or Fair Deal ghost writers of the past, it tends to disconcert the "opposition." To strive for the support of the maximum number of groups in the electorate is good politics, especially when the time lag between promise and performance is certain to be somewhat lengthy and beset by all sorts of amusements and alternative plans which at a moment's notice can be intercepted by the Democrats as "in the public interest."

Politically, Mr. Eisenhower took the right tack for 1955 — if he's thinking about the presidential contest which is less than 18 months away. But lots of things can happen in that interval, and the Democrats have the advantage of being able to wait till the crucial moments of next year to appraise how much has been accomplished and what has been left undone.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Adlai Stevenson and Tomasso Dewey are law partners. But not with each other.

That law business is a pretty good racket. In America it doesn't make any difference which side you're on.

We were reasonably established during the campaign when Franklin Delano the twice said he was head swiveler in a law office of 30 partners.

That's an echelon of influential squaddage. But Darrow, Earl Rogers, Hummel and Fallon would spot you 29 if you gave 'em one partner on the jury.

We were at the Dayton, Tenn., monkey trial and we're not certain whether Clarence had one on that jury or not. It might have been two.

There are doubtful elements in the scheme of things. A scalded cat and a bigamist's brothers-in-law.

Tomahawk Dewey goes into law practice because he wants to stack up some moola for his family. Governor Tom's Albany hide-away in Albany is the second biggest job in America. The first is opening mail for Liberate.

We have watched the twilight careers of our biggies when the shadows fall the wrong way. Cal Coolidge and Al Smith got to be presidents of insurance companies. Well, so did Mr. Pickett who led that charge at Gettysburg. Jim Farley enjoys the payday pause that refreshes.

Stassen became a college president. So did Ike and he snapped out of it. Whatever those boys do they make certain life starts at 10 in the morning.

Both Adlai and Tom talk their best off observation platforms. If they ever get elected to Supreme Court they'll move the joint over to Union Station.

Keep Feet Dry To Help Prevent Ringworm Of Toes

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Ringworm of the toes was dubbed "athlete's foot" as an advertising stunt. This term gives the erroneous impression that the infection is spread through contaminated shower room floors and swimming pools. Even today, gymnasiums and public showers insist that the user wear disposable slippers and walk through an antiseptic solution before and after the shower.

But evidence continues to mount that ringworm seldom is transmitted in this fashion. One of the latest reports along this line came from a study of 45 volunteers who deliberately exposed their feet to the causative agents. At periodic intervals, scrapings of the feet were sent to the laboratory.

While fungi were recovered on one or more occasions in 60 per cent, not one of the group developed ringworm. It is not unusual to find fungi on the feet of persons who do not have the infection, demonstrating that many people are immune.

On the other hand, skin resistance is lowered when the outer layers are macerated through dampness or irritated by strong chemicals. Maceration is likely to occur when perspiration is profuse or if the feet are not dried thoroughly after bathing or swimming. It is here the grain of truth arises concerning shower baths and swimming pools.

Wading in a basin of water containing an antiseptic solution is of little value. It is doubtful whether this momentary contact would kill even the weakest fungus.

The secret to prevention is to keep the feet dry. Anyone who has had ringworm or who perspires excessively should wear wool or cotton hose, which are better moisture absorbers than nylon and rayon. Perforated shoes are advised for hot weather wear as well as the regular use of a mild foot powder that checks fungi and keeps the feet dry. Tucking a few wisps of lamb's wool between the toes also deters maceration.

The importance of good foot hygiene cannot be stressed enough. The feet ought to be cleansed with a nonalkaline soap or detergent and dried thoroughly after each bath. Socks must be changed frequently.

For overactive sweat glands, applying the powder locally is of value, as is bantline, taken internally. One of the side effects of this ulcer remedy is to decrease perspiration.

Adequate treatment when itching, blisters, fissures, and scales first appear will save much discomfort later. Several good remedies are available. But since other

Try And Stop Me!

It takes no great talent, is the timely reminder of Father John La Farge, "to spread suspicion, fear, and hate. The tools are always at hand, the audience ready, and a halo of holy zeal is always easily adjusted to any ambitious writer's brow. On the other hand, it is tough going when you are striving to build up the full strength, spiritual and temporal, of many according to the image of his Creator. It is hard to offer no panaceas, and to teach the patient conquering of one's personal and racial prejudices.

Father La Farge remains, however, a confirmed optimist. "It's too easy to become pessimistic like my friend, Mart Jones, in Maryland," he says. "I once remarked to Mart that the weather was beautiful. Poor Mart answered dolefully, 'I hate fine weather. Fine weather breeds bad weather!'"

A report has it that hush-hush experiments are about to result in a new quick-freeze bandage, intended, of course, to be just what the doctor ordered for cold cuts.

Demo Caucus Gave Vent To Pent Up Resentment Against GOP Campaign

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — When veteran Congressman Clarence Brown of Ohio opened the secret Republican caucus this week, he said with a chuckle: "I do not have a schedule of procedure. However, when the Democrats completed their caucus in this chamber a few hours ago, they perhaps inadvertently left a copy of their agenda behind them. Maybe we should adopt it here as a gesture of good will. We have to get along with these fellows for the next two years."

Brown would hardly have suggested following the Democrats had he known what transpired at the opposition caucus. There "Mr. Sam" Rayburn of Texas—the "Mr. Big" of the House of Representatives — unloaded some pent-up steam which had been bothering him, as well as many other Democrats, for some time.

"This country must come first," the new speaker proclaimed. "On issues affecting the national security the President can expect and will get our support."

"However," continued Rayburn, "we Democrats cannot forget some of the tactics employed by the President's own party in the last campaign, the reckless smearing of Democrats as alleged traitors, with which the President saw fit to identify himself."

Rayburn specifically singled out Vice President Nixon as the bellwether of these attacks. But he also pinned responsibility on Eisenhower. The President, he said, had first contended he hadn't read Nixon's statement in the newspapers. Later he praised Nixon for doing a "great job" in the last campaign.

"In my estimation, that makes

Eisenhower a party to these unwarranted attacks on our patriotism," Rayburn told the secret caucus. "I'm of a forgiving nature, but I cannot forgive or forget the nasty aspersions that were hurled on my party by some people high in the councils of the Republican party."

"Attacks on our loyalty, as Americans, are far beyond the normally accepted tactics in a political campaign," said the man who has served longer consecutively in Congress than anyone else. "The last campaign marked an all-time low for gutter politics and political muckraking."

No More Pearl Harbors

Rayburn further told the closed-door session that with the world "sitting on the edge of a precipice," Democrats in Congress would give no support to GOP efforts to balance the federal budget "at the sacrifice of an adequate national defense."

"I hate to pay taxes the same as everyone else, including the New York bankers who are preaching about a balanced budget at a time when our democratic economy is threatened by the deadliest foreign enemy we have ever faced," said Mr. Sam.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, he recalled, pleaded in vain for sufficient defense funds prior to World War II.

"That war eventually cost us about $400,000,000,000," Rayburn continued, "whereas the expenditure of a few more billions earlier might have prevented the Jap attack of Pearl Harbor."

"The same is true today," concluded the speaker. "Even though it throws the budget out of balance, we must spare no defense spending to make our nation so strong that no predatory dictator or international pirate will dare attack us."

Spotless Governor

Unlike some Washington bureaucrats, the governor of Puerto Rico

is not opposed to taking a suggestion from the press.

Last month this column reported: "Mystery surrounds the reason why General Motors continues to be the highest bidder and get contracts despite that. Recently, Puerto Rico asked bids on 50 buses. Lowest bid was made by Mack trucks. Highest bid was by General Motors — $900 per bus higher than Mack. General Motors got the contract. Total extra cost to Puerto Ricans, $45,000."

Gov. Munoz Marin, who has a spotless record for honesty in government, read the column in the San Juan El Imparcial, immediately jumped into action. He canceled the contract for school buses, ordered his transportation authority to ask for new bids. He went even further. His office took the trouble to write a letter to this column expressing appreciation for calling the matter to his attention.

One Man's Plea

There was only one tense moment in the otherwise outwardly calm Democratic closed-door caucus. This was when West Virginia's Congressman Cleveland Bailey defied his party's leaders and forced them to permit him to make a speech.

The genial Bailey comes from a part of West Virginia suffering tragic unemployment in the coal mines. So he took Speaker Sam Rayburn aside as the caucus opened and warned that he would propose to the full caucus that it abolish the customary rule limiting the meeting to the picking of leaders. Such a motion would open the love feast to wrangles over various thorny political questions.

Inside Bailey's pocket was the text of a stirring speech on West Virginia. And this threat was his way of telling Sam that he meant to deliver it.

"I'll never get all 231 of these fellows together again to tell them the sad economic story of my state," Bailey told Speaker Rayburn.

Knights Post 9th Straight In Game Here

Bill Richmond Tops Scorers; Sentinels Suffer Fifth Loss

Valley High School's Black Knights rode to their ninth consecutive victory of the season by coping their W.M.I. League opener from Fort Hill High School's Sentinels last night on the Fort Hill court by the score of 54-43.

The Sentinels held the undefeated Lonaconing quint to a 19-18 score at halftime but Valley forged to the front in the third quarter by the margin of seven points, 41-34, and stayed on top to the finish.

Bill Richmond, Valley guard, was the game's high scorer with 13 points, nine of which were made in 14 tries at the charity stripe. Richard "Dick" Waddell tossed 13 points and Robert "Cokey" Robertson contributed 10.

Clarence "Pooch" Lewis and Jerry Landis were Fort Hill's high men with 10 tallies each.

The loss was the fifth absorbed by the Sentinels in seven outings. Waddell fouled out for Valley 3:4 before the final whistle.

Fort Hill's Jayvees topped Valley in the opening game, 38-32. Ric paced the victors with 19 points.

Patterson TKOs Troy In Fifth

NEW YORK, Jan. 7 (AP)—Speedy Floyd Patterson who celebrates his 20th birthday Tuesday, battered Willie Troy with his quick, destructive hands tonight to win a technical knockout at the end of the fifth round at Madison Square Garden. Patterson weighed 161 pounds and Troy 162.

Although Troy, the No. 6 middleweight, never was on the floor, he was a sorry sight as he sat in his corner after the fight. He had an egg-sized lump over his right eye and his left eye was completely closed.

Al Weill, manager of Troy could be seen motioning it war over even before Dr. Vincent Nardiello of the New York State Athletic Commission stopped the uneven contest.

Under New York rules the fight goes into the books as a fifth round knockout since the bell had not sounded for the sixth round.

Mary Elizabeth Aldridge To Be Bride Of James Forbes

Miss Mary Elizabeth Aldridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bennett Aldridge, Ridgeley, is to become the bride of James Forbes Jr., son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Forbes, Plymouth, Ind., tonight.

The wedding ceremony is to be solemnized at 7:30 p. m. in St. John's Lutheran Church, Cumberland, with Rev. Frederick J. Eckert officiating.

Miss Doris Dayton, Ridgeley, is to be the bride's maid of honor and only attendant, while John Aldridge, Ridgeley, cousin of the bride, serves as Mr. Forbes' best man. Mrs. Margaret Powers will be vocalist, singing, "Always," and "I Love You Truly."

The bride will wear a white ballerina-length gown of tulle and net, fashioned with a fitted bodice, short jacket and full skirt.

Her fingertip-length veil is attached to a small white hat, and completing her costume, she will carry a bouquet of white roses.

Her attendant has a blue net gown, similar to the bride's, and will wear a blue hat and carry a bouquet of yellow roses.

Mrs. Aldridge has chosen a tweed suit with black accessories for her daughter's wedding, and will have a corsage of yellow roses.

A graduate of Ridgeley High School, class of 1954, the bride was employed by Valentine's Snack Bar until her recent resignation. The bridegroom attended school in Indiana and is stationed with the Navy in Norfolk, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Aldridge will entertain with a wedding reception honoring their daughter and her bridegroom, following the ceremony. It will be held at their home, where the bride will be carried out in the decoration and tiered wedding cake, adorned with a miniature bride and bridegroom.

The bride will reside at the home of her parents for the present.

Order of Rainbow for Girls will elect officers at 7:30 tonight at the temple.

Oss-Growden Team Tops Bridge Field

Harry Oss and Henry Growden, Keyser, topped the field in the charity game of the Western Maryland Bridge Association. Thirteen and one half tables, playing 26 boards North and South and 24, East and West with an average of 156 and 144 featured the third game for the benefit of the American Cancer Society.

With a score of 197 Mr. Growden and Mr. Oss were first place North and South; Mrs. George Bottorf and Hugo Keller, second with 192 plus; Mrs. A. J. Feigus and Richard Winer, third with 182 plus; and Ted Gray and S. Russ Minter, fourth with 169.

First place East and West with 166 were Richard Schwab and Mrs. Milton Gerson; second with 165 plus, Dr. Paul Carstelle and J. P. Paddiford; third, with 157, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Douglas; fourth with 155 plus, Mrs. Roy Drumm and Mark Lazarus Jr.

Winners in the Fountain Head Bridge Club of Hagerstown were Mrs. H. McK. Price and Mrs. R. L. Tressler; Mrs. T. A. Chappelle and R. Robert Harper; third, Mrs. Carl K. Stonebraker and Mrs. Franklin Thomas Jr.

Today at 1 the Duplicate Bridge Club will have its monthly Full Master Point Game in Room 204 of the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

Nancy Wyatt Is Bride Of Lt. George A. Kulak

M. Sgt. and Mrs. Sterling H. Wyatt, Mitchel Air Force Base, N. Y., former Cumberlanders, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Nancy M. Wyatt, to Lt. George A. Kulak, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Kulak, Harrison, N. J.

The double ring wedding ceremony was solemnized December 18 in the Mitchel Air Force Base Chapel, with the chaplain officiating. Mrs. Grace Wojciak was the bride's matron of honor and only attendant, while S. Sgt. Donald Wojciak served as Lt. Kulak's best man.

The bride was attired in a street-length dress of eggshell moire faille with which she wore matching satin hat and slippers. Completing her costume, she carried a cascade bouquet of feathered white carnations centered with a white orchid.

Her attendant had a light blue faille dress with dark blue accessories and she carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

A granddaughter of Mrs. B. A. Wolford, 705 Shriver Avenue, and Mrs. Asa Wyatt, 124 Bedford Street, the bride was born and attended elementary school here. She is a graduate of Bristol High School, Bristol, Tenn., and at present is a member of the WAF, stationed at Tinker AFB, Oklahoma.

Lt. Kulka is en route to a new assignment at Elmendorf Air Force Base, Alaska, where Mrs. Kulka will join him in the spring, when she is discharged from the WAF.

A reception was held in the non-commissioned officers club at Mitchel AFB following the ceremony.

Attending the wedding from Cumberland were Mrs. Wolford, and Mrs. Frank Heiskell, LaVale, aunt of the bride.

Miss Effie Brinkman, Elkins, is spending the week as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Alva W. Davis, 1003 Virginia Avenue, Mrs. Leonard Walther, Philadelphia, left yesterday for Hagerstown, after visiting Mr. and Mrs. Davis.

WIFE PRESERVERS

To clean a hair brush, put it in soapy, lukewarm water to which a tablespoon of ammonia has been added. The ammonia removes the oil from the brush. Rinse the brush in clean, lukewarm water, then in cold, shake and dry in an airy place.

GOP Women Begin Study Of Offices

Announcement of a board meeting and hostesses for the February meeting was made at the meeting of the Cumberland Women's Republican Club, Thursday evening at Ali Ghan City Club. James Getty, chairman of the Republican State Central committee and assistant state's attorney, was guest speaker. Mrs. Paul Fletcher presided.

The board meeting is to be held at 2 o'clock Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Fletcher, 801 Ridgedale Avenue, when activities for the year will be outlined. Mrs. John Lancaster and Mrs. Edward Wilson will be hostesses for the general meeting February 3.

Inaugurating a study of the duties of officials from the county to state level, including appointments and salaries, Mr. Getty was the first speaker. He was introduced by Mrs. Lucile Roeder, Program chairman.

Discussing "Duties and Powers of the State Central Committee," Mr. Getty stated that the origin of the committee is found in the Republican Party's constitution. He explained that one member of the committee is elected for each delegate to Annapolis and one for the senator. Of these seven, two are in Cumberland and five in the Tri-Towns. They are elected every four years and receive no salary, "just the satisfaction of work well done."

Mr. Getty pointed out that the chairman is selected by the members; the county is divided into districts, with 91 precincts and one member of the committee is responsible for each district, including the appointments and registrations, and at election time, precinct captains and workers; and is a general overseer of the district who is responsible for the success and blamed when the party loses. The committee has no way to raise money, he said, and all money for campaigns is donated.

Recommendations for positions are made to the senator and each member of the committee receives a copy of the applications. The speaker said the main applications go to him as chairman, and the senator, with the governor, to whom he presents them, select the appointees.

A question-and-answer period followed.

Preceding the meeting a covered dish supper was held with 62 attending. Mrs. Morgan Smith offered the invocation and Mrs. Elizabeth Nave and Mrs. Charles Heller were cochairmen of arrangements.

129 Local Girls Competing For Tomorrow's Homemaker

There are 129 local senior girls taking a written examination testing their aptitude for a homemaking career, their teachers said last evening. A total of 2,391 in Maryland high schools will observe "Homemaker of Tomorrow Day" January 12 by competing for the college scholarships, cash awards and pins.

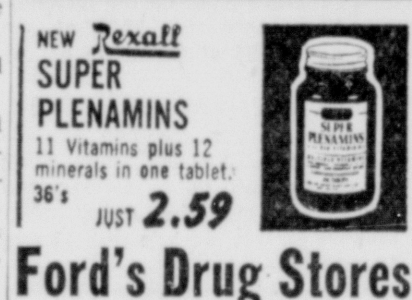

Being given to national, state and local winners. Simultaneously 189,530 are competing throughout the country.

Twenty-five seniors from Catholic Girls Central High School will take the test under the supervision of Sister Nicholas, principal; 65 seniors, of whom 18 are home economics girls, from Fort Hill High School, will be supervised by Ralph Weimer, guidance director, assisted by Miss Viola Hudson, head of the home economics class, and Miss Mary Martin, teacher; 13 from St. Mary's High School, Sister Rosemary, principal; and 26 from Allegany High School with Miss Helen McFerran and Mrs. Carolyn R. Arbogast, home ec teachers.

The examination has been prepared by Science Research Associates of Chicago. It will consist of multiple choice and subjective questions which will test the students' attitude and knowledge in such major areas of homemaking as family relationship, spiritual values, child care, health, safety, conversation of resources, money management, recreation, home beautification, community participation and continuing education.

This 50-minute examination will be the basis for selecting the Homemaker of Tomorrow in each school, state and finally on April 21, the nation. Scholarships totaling $75,000, travel opportunities and other educational prizes are being offered by General Mills, sponsor of the contest designed to "assist the schools in building in young women a deeper appreciation and understanding of the American home and the personal qualities necessary to successful homemaking."

After each girl has taken the test, she will receive a 24-page homemaking guide which will assist her in pursuing her future career. The girl receiving the highest score in each school will be entered in state competition where the winner will receive a $1,500 scholarship and a trip with her.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

In the days when nearly every mother started a trousseau for her daughter at the girl's birth, monograms were more widely used than they are today. Still, monograms are popular for marking personal and household belongings. Size should be proportionate to that of the item on which the monogram is to appear, and the letter should be simple.

A large monogram—up to 6 1/2 inches—is used for sheets, while on small luncheon napkins you would use initials about 1 1/2 inches in size. For personal things such as your own linen, cigarette case, or lingerie, you may use a curled monogram, but for silver and other items used by the whole family block letters, or the graceful, rounded letters derived from script, are preferable. Block-letter initials, rather than a monogram, are best for a man's belongings.

Choice Of Initials

After marriage, a woman no longer marks household linens (or silver or glassware) with her maiden initials. It is quite correct to use the initials of your given name, middle name and married name, omitting your maiden surname. The more acceptable practice by modern usage is a monogram combining the initials of your given name, your maiden surname, and your married name. They may be combined in that order, or you may center the married initial with the given and maiden initials twined into it on either side.

For a woman's writing paper, the best monograms are of fairly simple and conventional shapes—square, round, oval, oblong, diamond. Or choose more elaborate, but stylized shapes. The engraved monogram should appear at the center top of the sheet, or in the upper left-hand corner. On a page sized 5 x 7, or 6 x 8 inches, the monogram should not be larger than 3/4-inch in diameter, or 3/4 x 1/2 inch overall.

To Give Style

A monogram, by its very definition, includes two or more letters intertwined. There is the preferred number of initials, and four may be used, although it is difficult to design an attractive pattern with so

'Intent To Kill' Charge Is Filed Against Kearns

Victim Is Improving In Keyser Hospital

An 18-year-old Westernport youth was ordered held for action of the April grand jury yesterday afternoon when he waived a preliminary hearing on a charge of assault with intent to kill.

He is Richard Franklin Kearns, of Railroad Street, Westernport, who police said was involved in a quarrel in a restaurant in that community on December 30 which resulted in the stabbing in the abdomen of a 19-year-old sailor, Edward Vinci, of Peking.

Kearns was ordered held under $5,000 bond by Magistrate Donald W. Mason yesterday afternoon, and was committed to County Jail in default of bond.

The charge was placed by James S. Getty, assistant state's attorney, who prayed a jury trial.

The young sailor, who is based at Norfolk, Va., is reported improving in Potomac Valley Hospital, where he was taken in a critical condition early on December 30.

Kearns has been held in County Jail since the stabbing, without a formal charge pending the outcome of Vinci's injuries.

Officials said the sailor was knifed during an argument over the merit of the United States Navy. The State's Attorney's Office said Kearns did not deny the stabbing, during questioning the next day, but said "the other man struck the first blow."

Officials recalled that on May 16, 1953, Kearns was sentenced in Circuit Court to 18 months in the Maryland Reformatory on an assault charge resulting from the shooting of a companion, Donald R. Wilson, 18, of Westernport.

At that time, Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris said the youth was emotionally unstable and needed psychiatric treatment and discipline.

Dr. Elkins Says Solons Entitled To U. Md. Report

COLLEGE PARK, Jan. 7 (AP)—Dr. Wilson H. Elkins, president of the University of Maryland, said tonight he feels the Legislature is entitled to make "an official study" of a controversial evaluation report on the school.

The report, made by the Middle Atlantic States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, became a hot item in the 1954 gubernatorial race — mainly because Dr. H. C. Byrd, former University president, was a candidate.

The report, never made public except for a few "leaks," is considered to be critical of Byrd's administration of the university.

The matter was stirred up again this week when state Sen. Kimble (R-Allegany) introduced a resolution calling on the Board of Regents of the university to make the report available to the state Senate. He also wrote Elkins requesting a copy himself.

Elkins, emphasizing he was speaking as an individual and that the regents have not authorized any statements yet, said tonight he felt that if the legislators wanted to study the report "I'm ready for them to study it."

He limited his statement to "an official study," however, and said he meant by that that the report would not be made public property.

In a separate interview, Judge William P. Cole Jr., president of the Board of Regents, said it has been his position that anything pertaining to the university should be made available to appropriate legislative bodies, the governor or the Board of Public Works.

During the campaign the board refused to make the report public.

Sewage Treatment Plan Approved For State Police Barracks

Plans for the sewage treatment system for the new Maryland State Police barracks in LaVale have been approved by the state, according to J. B. Dowling, chief of the sanitation section of the Allegany County Health Department.

He added the Department of Public Improvements is now making test drillings for the foundation of the barracks which will be located on Route 40 opposite LaVale Baptist Church.

The building will be equipped with a modern sewage treatment system which will include chlorination of the effluent.

Model Layout Shows Familiar Scene

The model railroad layout at the home of Baltimore and Ohio Railroad caller Vernon Wharton, 423 Laing Avenue, is characterized by realism. This year's display, which will be on exhibit in the Wharton living room until the end of January, includes the

Realism Keynote Of Local Model Railroader's Layout

One of the more elaborate Christmas yards still on display in Cumberland this season belongs to Vernon Wharton of 423 Laing Avenue.

Wharton, a Baltimore and Ohio Railroad caller, has gone to considerable lengths to produce the illusion of realism in his layout — all of which is, of course, strictly B&O equipment.

Not satisfied with model trains as he buys them (they frequently carry the names of other railroad lines), Wharton spends hours each night repainting stock items of model equipment with the B&O insignia.

He also spends a lot of time in the basement building his own cars and other yard equipment, all of which are scaled as closely as possible to actual equipment in the B&O yards here, and at other points along the railroad's 13-state system.

For instance, one of this year's innovations is a replica of the scenery at Harper's Ferry, W. Va., where Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia meet at the confluence of the Shenandoah and the Potomac rivers.

The scene—in reality one of the most picturesque on the B&O—is complete in Wharton's layout except for part of the Shenandoah River, which he plans to add later.

If trains are for children only, says Wharton, the kids should be husky. The Harper's Ferry tunnel in his layout was built from 100 pounds of plaster.

Wharton puts up the yard just after Thanksgiving each year, and leaves it on display in his living room until the end of January.

James S. Getty, assistant state's attorney, prosecuted, assisted by J. B. Dowling, sanitarian, Lois Jackson, of the Health Department, and Robert Jones, from the Board of Education.

Getty said all testified to the unsanitary condition of the home in spite of the fact that the father earns about $63 a week in a local factory.

He said the condition is aggravated by their being in debt to several loan companies.

Getty said the payments to the loan companies, plus $12 a month rent, take about $103 each month from the family's income.

Officials said the man is at present repaying loans on electric washing machines, an electric stove, a refrigerator and deep freeze, a television set and a late-model automobile.

Getty said the father did not seem to realize how much of the family's income was being drained off for loan installments.

Getty said that in spite of the modern appliances, the home is without sanitary facilities.

Officials said the mother's continued absence contributed to the filth and squalor of the home.

Getty said she told them she had been in Frostburg and Lonaconing during the absences, applying for surplus foods and medical aid for the children.

In suspending sentence, Magistrate Thompson asked a health nurse to visit the home once a week to make sure that the children were being properly cared for, and a sanitarian inspect the home once a month.

Officials said local loan companies have been notified to stop negotiating loans when the man is not in a position to repay.

School Additions Pass Inspection

Additions to Carver and Oldtown high schools which have been constructed under Allegany County's current $3,500,000 school building program were inspected Thursday and passed with flying colors, according to Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster.

Participating in the inspection were Dennis W. Madden of the Mt. Rainier architectural firm of Walton and Madden, designers of the two projects; four engineers who participated in the planning, W. Earle Cobey and Mrs. Albert C. Cook, members of the County Board of Education; Edward and William George of the George Construction Company, general contractor for both jobs, and some of the sub contractors.

A few details still have to be completed in both projects, Webster said.

Engineers Meet Today

Local 37-B, Operating Engineers (AFL), will meet today at 8 p. m. in the AFL Labor Temple.

Final Approval Of Fluoridation Setup Sought

Plans Submitted To State Boards

Plans for the installation which will be used to fluoridate the Cumberland water supply have been forwarded to the health departments of Maryland and Pennsylvania for final approval, city officials said yesterday.

The plans incorporate several minor changes, officials said, which were suggested by engineers of the health departments during a recent inspection.

Final approval, officials said, would set the stage for fluoridation, which was approved by a resolution of the Mayor and Council on December 8, 1952.

The resolution called for the treatment of the water supply with fluorine, not to exceed one part per million, and followed recommendation made by the dental society of the county.

Meanwhile, officials of the Allegany-Garrett Dental Society, which has been pressing for action on the plan, have hailed the action of the United States Supreme Court in upholding the right of Shreveport, La., to fluoridate its water supply.

They said the action constituted the high court's first direct ruling on the measure. In the case, the Supreme Court dismissed an appeal by anti-fluoridation forces from the state's supreme court's decision and held there was no "substantial federal question involved."

The Louisiana high court, Dental Society officials said, reversed the only decision ever rendered against fluoridation and ruled the evidence "overwhelmingly refutes the contention that prevention of tooth decay is not a matter of public health but private hygiene."

As of December 15, 1,032 communities in the United States, serving 20,283,000 people, are receiving fluoridated water.

To Elect Chairmen

Local 26, Rubber Workers Union (CIO), will elect seven division chairmen at a meeting today at 7:30 p. m. in the union hall.

City's Bingo Receipts Drop 17 Per Cent

Cumberland's income from admissions to bingo games has decreased 17 per cent over the past year, according to figures supplied by Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor.

The city estimated, in setting up the 1954-55 budget, that the 10-cent tax on each admission to bingo games would bring in $10,000, about 1½ cents on the tax rate.

Another $5,000 was budgeted in the Recreation Income fund for a five-cent tax levied by the city for admissions to bingo games under an admission tax ordinance.

Gibson said the bingo tax brought in $5,411.50 during the first six months of the 1953-54 fiscal year, and the games added $2,705.25 to the rec admission tax fund, bringing total bingo income to the $8,116.75 mark.

But from June 30, to December 31, 1954, the 10-cent bingo tax brought in only $4,481.50, and the admission tax on bingo $2,240.75, for a total of $6,722.25, a drop of almost $1,400.

The reduced receipts were discussed by the Mayor and Council on Monday, after it was suggested the city's bingo ordinance be amended to provide a penalty for late filing of reports.

City Attorney Thomas B. Finan suggested a penalty of five or 10 per cent could be levied for late filing, but added the amount would be up to the council.

During the discussion, it was pointed out that most organizations report bingo and admission figures promptly, but that a few were two or three months late, posing a problem for City Clerk Wallace G. Ulery, who must keep the records of the taxes.

Man Burned In Frostburg Blaze

A 63-year-old Frostburg man was hospitalized last night with burns about his body sustained in a fire which occurred at his residence in the Abramson Apartment House, East Mechanic Street.

In fair condition at Miners Hospital is John Rankin, who sustained burns about his face, hands, back and feet. The fire was discovered about 6:30 p. m. and the volunteer fire company was summoned. However the fire was not on arrival. A carpet and wallpaper of one of the rooms was damaged.

Evangelistic Services Slated At Area Church

Special evangelistic services will begin during the regular morning worship service tomorrow at Davis Memorial Methodist Church, Oldtown Road.

Rev. Karl L. Crowe, pastor, will be the evangelist for the revival. In charge of music will be Rev. and Mrs. Glenn Oldaker, of Culpeper, Va., well-known song evangelists of the South. Services will be held each evening through January 23 at 7:30 o'clock.

Byrd, Mahoney May Vie For Md. Treasury Post

Four Others Are To Be Considered

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 7 (AP)—Dr. H. C. Byrd and George P. Mahoney, bitter foes in last spring's primary and summer-long recount fight, may square off again next week when the Legislature elects a State treasurer.

The names of Byrd and Mahoney reportedly head a list of a half dozen either seeking the job or being sought for the high-ranking post, the only important State office not filled by the people at the election.

Others, all Democrats, of course, reported under consideration or anxious for consideration are:

Hooper S. Miles, who has held the job for 20 years but who is reported out of favor with his party.

John Wood Logan, former majority leader in the House of Delegates and now serving on the State Tax Commission.

Sen. George W. Della who recently completed a four-year term as president of the State Senate.

Emerson C. Harrington Jr., leader of a Dorchester County Democratic clan and long prominent in Maryland politics.

Is Board Member

The most important function of the State Treasurer is to sit with Gov. McKeldin and State Comptroller J. Millard Tawes as a member of the three-man Board of Public Works.

The State Constitution provides that the treasurer be elected by the General Assembly and that action may come when the Legislature reconvenes Monday night. Actually, he will be named in a caucus of the 119 Democratic legislators who hold an overwhelming majority of the 152 seats.

Neither Dr. Byrd nor Mahoney is an open candidate for treasurer. But there are reports that friends of each have been sounding out sentiment for them—trying to gather support.

Means Party Leadership

Election of either would boost him right back to the top of the Democratic Party's leadership.

Since Gov. McKeldin, a Republican, will be the minority member of the Board of Public Works, just as he has been for the past four years, the treasurer may often have the deciding vote on important capital expenditures and control over the disbursement of certain other funds.

Some Democrats have accused Treasurer Miles of voting along with the governor too often. So Miles has a fight on his hands if he is to win re-election to a sixth term.

It is not definite that the names of either Byrd or Mahoney will come before the Democratic caucus, but it is believed only a nod from either is needed. And the nods may already have been given.

'Revenuers' Hit 2 County Stills In '54

Two stills were seized in Allegany County last year, according to the initial annual report of the Maryland Alcohol Tax Enforcement Unit of the Alcoholic Beverages Division.

Twenty-four gallons of illegally distilled spirits were seized and one arrest was made. The total capacity of the stills was 200 gallons. In the seizure, 10 gallons of mash were taken by the law enforcement officers.

Up in Garrett County a partial distillery plant was seized and two persons were apprehended. A total of one gallon of illegal spirits was taken, and 85 gallons of mash. Capacity of the distilling plant was 200 gallons.

In the Allegany County arrest there was a fine of $500 and 540 days in jail. Total value of the seized contraband was $210.

Some $500 was also paid in the Garrett County arrests and those taken into custody spent 30 days in confinement. Value of the contraband was $37.50.

The report showed that more than one agent is required when working in the woods, and on some still seizure raids the entire enforcement personnel of the unit is used.

Keyserite Freed As His Accuser Goes Behind Bars

Falsely Charged With Forgery

A Keyser man is now free after having spent about a month in the Mineral County Jail while falsely accused of forgery, and his accuser is now behind bars on a false swearing charge, according to Prosecuting Attorney Vernon E. Rankin.

The freed man is Jarrett Smith, 42, of 25 Virginia Street, Keyser. Now in jail is Andy Allen Burns, RFD 2, Keyser.

Rankin explained that Burns and Smith hauled pulp wood to the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company at Luke. They hauled the load for Andrew Rexroad Jr. of Burlington, W.Va., in November.

When the Burlington man failed to get his $60, less the hauling costs, he questioned Burns, who accused Smith of forging the check. Burns then preferred a forgery charge against Smith, who remained in jail until about a week ago.

West Virginia State Trooper Charles Oliver and Rankin subsequently became suspicious about the check made out to Andy Burns and bearing his signature when they compared it with other handwriting.

Handwriting specimens were sent to the FBI in Washington where experts declared the handwriting was Burns'. Rankin said, Burns could not be charged with forgery because he had signed his own name, the prosecuting attorney added. However, he was subject to the false swearing charge in accusing Smith of a crime, Rankin concluded.

The next Mineral County Circuit Court grand jury will meet January 18.

Firemen Meet Sunday

The Allegany-Garrett Counties Volunteer Firemen's Association will conduct its first 1955 meeting at 2 p. m. tomorrow at the Cresaptown Fire Hall.

The delegates went home until next Monday night after hearing McKeldin outline his tax ideas to the General Assembly Wednesday night.

The senators came back Thursday for a brief session. They introduced seven more bills, one of which is apt to be provocative before the session ends. By Sen. Kimble (R-Allegany), it would repeal self-control over many operations granted the University of Maryland in 1952.

Kimble said he was convinced by refusal of the regents to release an evaluation report on the university that the power "had been abused."

Action Planned On Airport Lease

The Municipal Airport Commission made plans last night to make recommendations on the leasing of the city airport next Wednesday.

The meeting will be held at 7:30 p. m. in the office of Mayor Roy W. Eves in City Hall.

The commission met last night, with Arthur J. Weber, chairman; Oscar Gurley, Dr. W. Royce Hodges and T. Donald Shires present.

Members decided to defer action on the leasing plan until the January 12 meeting so the full seven-member commission could act.

Also present at the meeting were Thomas Barton, Warren Mullenax and Walter Burd, all of whom have submitted leasing proposals.

Area Church Plans Election Of Officers

Officers of the Evangelical Reformed Church of Grantsville will be elected tomorrow at noon with a covered dish being served immediately afterward.

Rev. C. E. Whetstone, pastor of the church, said the congregational meeting will be held tomorrow following worship service at 9:30 a. m. Sunday school will be held at 10:30 a. m.

Chapter Officers Installed

A man and his wife from National yesterday were sentenced to two years in penal institutions for contributing to the delinquency of their nine minor children by failing to provide adequate home conditions.

They were tried in Juvenile Court here on charges preferred by the Allegany County Health Department in what was described as the first prosecution under a state law which provides penalties for unsanitary homes which affect the health of children.

Magistrate Alban C. Thompson suspended the sentences on conditions that the children be properly cared for and that the home be thoroughly cleaned in proper condition for rearing children, and that the children be kept in school at all times.

James S. Getty, assistant state's attorney, prosecuted, assisted by J. B. Dowling, sanitarian, Lois Jackson, of the Health Department, and Robert Jones, from the Board of Education.

Final Approval Of Fluoridation Setup Sought

Plans Submitted To State Boards

Plans for the installation which will be used to fluoridate the Cumberland water supply have been forwarded to the health departments of Maryland and Pennsylvania for final approval, city officials said yesterday.

The plans incorporate several minor changes, officials said, which were suggested by engineers of the health departments during a recent inspection.

Final approval, officials said, would set the stage for fluoridation, which was approved by a resolution of the Mayor and Council on December 8, 1952.

The resolution called for the treatment of the water supply with fluorine, not to exceed one part per million, and followed recommendation made by the dental society of the county.

Meanwhile, officials of the Allegany-Garrett Dental Society, which has been pressing for action on the plan, have hailed the action of the United States Supreme Court in upholding the right of Shreveport, La., to fluoridate its water supply.

They said the action constituted the high court's first direct ruling on the measure. In the case, the Supreme Court dismissed an appeal by anti-fluoridation forces from the state's supreme court's decision and held there was no "substantial federal question involved."

The Louisiana high court, Dental Society officials said, reversed the only decision ever rendered against fluoridation and ruled the evidence "overwhelmingly refutes the contention that prevention of tooth decay is not a matter of public health but private hygiene."

As of December 15, 1,032 communities in the United States, serving 20,283,000 people, are receiving fluoridated water.

To Elect Chairmen

Local 26, Rubber Workers Union (CIO), will elect seven division chairmen at a meeting today at 7:30 p. m. in the union hall.

City's Bingo Receipts Drop 17 Per Cent

Cumberland's income from admissions to bingo games has decreased 17 per cent over the past year, according to figures supplied by Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor.

The city estimated, in setting up the 1954-55 budget, that the 10-cent tax on each admission to bingo games would bring in $10,000, about 1 1/2 cents on the tax rate.

Another $5,000 was budgeted in the Recreation Income fund for a five-cent tax levied by the city for admissions to bingo games under an admission tax ordinance.

Gibson said the bingo tax brought in $5,411.50 during the first six months of the 1953-54 fiscal year, and the games added $2,705.25 to the rec admission tax fund, bringing total bingo income to the $8,115.75 mark.

But from June 30, to December 31, 1954, the 10-cent bingo tax brought in only $4,481.50, and the admission tax on bingo $2,240.75, for a total of $6,722.25, a drop of almost $1,400.

The reduced receipts were discussed by the Mayor and Council on Monday, after it was suggested the city's bingo ordinance be amended to provide a penalty for late filing of reports.

City Attorney Thomas B. Finan suggested a penalty of five or 10 per cent could be levied for late filing, but added the amount would be up to the council.

During the discussion, it was pointed out that most organizations report bingo and admission figures promptly, but that a few were two or three months late, posing a problem for City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery, who must keep the records of the taxes.

Man Burned In Frostburg Blaze

A 63-year-old Frostburg man was hospitalized last night with burns about his body sustained in a fire which occurred at his residence in the Abramson Apartment House, East Mechanic Street.

In fair condition at Miners Hospital is John Rankin, who sustained burns about his face, hands, back and feet. The fire was discovered about 6:30 p. m. and the volunteer fire company was summoned. However the fire was out on arrival. A carpet and wallpaper of one of the rooms was damaged.

Byrd, Mahoney May Vie For Md. Treasury Post

Four Others Are To Be Considered

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 7 (AP)—Dr. H. C. Byrd and George P. Mahoney, bitter foes in last spring's primary and summer-long recount fight, may square off again next week when the Legislature elects a State treasurer.

The names of Byrd and Mahoney reportedly head a list of a half dozen either seeking the job or being sought for the high-ranking post, the only important State office not filled by the people at the election.

Others, all Democrats, of course, reported under consideration or anxious for consideration are:

Hooper S. Miles, who has held the job for 20 years but who is reported out of favor with his party.

John Wood Logan, former majority leader in the House of Delegates and now serving on the State Tax Commission.

Sen. George W. Della who recently completed a four-year term as president of the State Senate.

Emerson C. Harrington Jr., leader of a Dorchester County Democratic clan and long prominent in Maryland politics.

Is Board Member

The most important function of the State Treasurer is to sit with Gov. McKeldin and State Comptroller J. Millard Taves as a member of the three-man Board of Public Works.

The State Constitution provides that the treasurer be elected by the General Assembly and that action may come when the Legislature reconvenes Monday night. Actually, he will be named in a caucus of the 119 Democratic legislators who hold an overwhelming majority of the 152 seats.

Neither Dr. Byrd nor Mahoney is an open candidate for treasurer. But there are reports that friends of each have been sounding out sentiment for them—trying to gather support.

Means Party Leadership

Election of either would boost him right back to the top of the Democratic Party's leadership.

Since Gov. McKeldin, a Republican, will be the minority member of the Board of Public Works, just as he has been for the past four years, the treasurer may often have the deciding vote on important capital expenditures and control over the disbursement of certain other funds.

Some Democrats have accused Treasurer Miles of voting along with the governor too often. So Miles has a fight on his hands if he is to win re-election to a sixth term.

It is not definite that the names of either Byrd or Mahoney will come before the Democratic caucus, but it is believed only a nod from either is needed. And the nods may already have been given.

Evangelistic Services Slated At Area Church

Special evangelistic services will begin during the regular morning worship service tomorrow at Davis Memorial Methodist Church, Oldtown Road.

Rev. Karl L. Crowe, pastor, will be the evangelist for the revival. In charge of music will be Rev. and Mrs. Glenn Oldaker, of Culpeper, Va., well-known song evangelists of the South. Services will be held each evening through January 23 at 7:30 o'clock.

'Revenuers' Hit 2 County Stills In '54

Two stills were seized in Allegany County last year, according to the initial annual report of the Maryland Alcohol Tax Enforcement Unit of the Alcoholic Beverages Division.

Twenty-four gallons of illegally distilled spirits were seized and one arrest was made. The total capacity of the stills was 200 gallons. In the seizure, 10 gallons of mash were taken by the law enforcement officers.

Up in Garrett County a partial distillery plant was seized and two persons were apprehended. A total of one gallon of illegal spirits was taken, and 85 gallons of mash. Capacity of the distilling plant was 200 gallons.

In the Allegany County arrest there was a fine of $500 and 540 days in jail. Total value of the seized contraband was $210.

Some $500 was also paid in the Garrett County arrests and those taken into custody spent 30 days in confinement. Value of the contraband was $37.50.

The report showed that more than one agent is required when working in the woods, and on some still seizure raids the entire enforcement personnel of the unit is used.

Keyserite Freed As His Accuser Goes Behind Bars

Falsely Charged With Forgery

A Keyser man is now free after having spent about a month in the Mineral County Jail while falsely accused of forgery, and his accuser is now behind bars on a false swearing charge, according to Prosecuting Attorney Vernon E. Rankin.

The freed man is Jarrett Smith, 42, of 25 Virginia Street, Keyser. Now in jail is Andy Allen Burns, RFD 2, Keyser.

Rankin explained that Burns and Smith hauled pulp wood to the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company at Luke. They hauled the load for Andrew Rexroad Jr. of Burlington, W.Va., in November.

When the Burlington man failed to get his $60, less the hauling costs, he questioned Burns, who accused Smith of forging the check. Burns then preferred a forgery charge against Smith, who remained in jail until about a week ago.

West Virginia State Trooper Charles Oliver and Rankin subsequently became suspicious about the check made out to Andy Burns and bearing his signature when they compared it with other handwriting.

Handwriting specimens were sent to the FBI in Washington where experts declared the handwriting was Burns', Rankin said. Burns could not be charged with forgery because he had signed his own name, the prosecuting attorney added. However, he was subject to the false swearing charge in accusing Smith of a crime, Rankin concluded.

The next Mineral County Circuit Court grand jury will meet January 18.

Firemen Meet Sunday

The Allegany-Garrett Counties Volunteer Firemen's Association will conduct its first 1955 meeting at 2 p. m. tomorrow at the Cresaptown Fire Hall.

Senate, House To Cooperate On Budget Job

Hope To Lighten State Tax Blow

By GEORGE BOWEN

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 7 (AP)—Close and continuous comparison of the budget will be made this year by the House and Senate Finance committees in contrast to the past two years when they went their separate ways until almost the last minute.

The plan for constant collaboration results from both committee chairmen, Sen. Turnbull and Del. Boone, both from the same county—Baltimore.

Therefore they will be more inclined to work out the major problem of the 90-day session together. "We haven't sat down yet to work out the specific routine, but you can be sure we will be in constant touch with each other," said Turnbull.

"We also will consult frequently with Speaker Luber (D-Balto 5th) and President Goldstein (D-Calvert), both of whom are former Finance chairmen," he said.

Goldstein stepped up to the presidency and Luber was majority floor leader in the House before starting five terms as speaker.

Compromises Usual
Boone was head of the House Ways and Means Committee three years ago and has continued to serve on it.

During the past two sessions, the House and Senate committees have worked independently on the budget. In the final days, they got together to compare notes and then compromised their differences.

For the most part, changes recommended by the House committee were adopted.

In 1951-52, the Senate group dominated the budget revisions as received from the governor, with the House having a subcommittee attending the daily sessions and reporting back to its members.

It was agreed generally that this year's probable way of working together as they go on the budget between the two committees undoubtedly will produce more "efficiency."

But one veteran House Finance committeeman wondered, "if the results will be as good."

He said "certainly, the separate working plan produced diversities, but the compromises in the end were good."

This year's budget will get more of a going over "than usual." The Finance committees will be searching hard for places to cut recommended appropriations.

They will be out to lighten a tax blow that Gov. McKeldin says is necessary to raise 29 million dollars more than anticipated income.

Cuts Are Hoped For
He will recommend both the sales and income taxes be raised to 3 per cent and that withholding of the income taxes from pay start July 1. The combination of withholding during the last half of this year while taxpayers still are paying off last year has been labelled by some as outright double taxation.

Recently, the best cutting of recommended appropriations that the legislators have been able to accomplish is between two and three million dollars.

McKeldin has warned that his recommended appropriations for next year will be 17 to 18 million more than this. He doesn't expect to have the budget ready for the legislators to start studying until Jan. 25.

The delegates went home until next Monday night after hearing McKeldin outline his tax ideas to the General Assembly Wednesday night.

The senators came back Thursday for a brief session. They introduced seven more bills, one of which is apt to be provocative before the session ends. By Sen. Kimble (R-Allegany), it would repeal self-control over many operations granted the University of Maryland in 1952.

Kimble said he was convinced by refusal of the regents to release an evaluation report on the university that the power "had been abused."

Action Planned On Airport Lease

The Municipal Airport Commission made plans last night to make recommendations on the leasing of the city airport next Wednesday.

The meeting will be held at 7:30 p. m. in the office of Mayor Roy W. Eves in City Hall.

The commission met last night, with Arthur J. Weber, chairman; Oscar Gurley, Dr. W. Royce Hodges and T. Donald Shires present.

Members decided to defer action on the leasing plan until the January 12 meeting so the full seven-member commission could act.

Also present at the meeting were Thomas Barton, Warren Mullenax and Walter Burd, all of whom have submitted leasing proposals.

Area Church Plans Election Of Officers

Officers of the Evangelical Reformed Church of Grantsville will be elected tomorrow at noon with a covered dish being served immediately afterward.

Rev. C. E. Whetstone, pastor of the church, said the congregational meeting will be held tomorrow following worship service at 9:30 a. m. Sunday school will be held at 10:30 a. m.

Chapter Officers Installed
